Lincoln's '57 Construction Fails To Reach '56 Level

$2.3 Million Below Last Year's Mark

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Lincoln construction climbed to $11,919,260 during 1957, but failed to reach 1956 levels by approximately $2.3 million.

The 1957 total of $11,919,260 compares with $14,227,927 for 1956 and with the all-time high of $20,472,203 for 1955.

High month for 1957 was May when building cost estimates of $1,688,480 were filed. Other million dollar months were April, June, August, September, and October.

The building rate since 1950 has averaged about $13.6 million a year for a total of $109,103,478.

December building statistics showed 61 permits were issued for a total of $339,073. This included 24 new residential units costing a total of $264,990.

The year's statistics for 1957 showed 1,858 permits for a $11,919,260 total. New home construction totaled $7,292,639 with multiple-dwelling units adding another $503,464. The number of new residential units totaled 703.

The 1957 building record was:

Months	Total Building Costs	Units	Cost Per Unit
January	$207,774	11	$18,889
February	$230,895	57	$4,051
March	$73,919	64	$1,155
April	$1,301,124	73	$17,824
May	$1,688,480	65	$25,977
June	$1,012,148	69	$14,683
July	$75,822	60	$1,264
August	$1,491,152	86	$17,339

Top Physicist Glad Wilson Not In Office

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. I. I. Rabi, one of the nation's most distinguished physicists, said Tuesday he heard that the facts of modern scientific warfare "have just not penetrated" with America's heads of government.

Otherwise, Rabi said, U.S. leaders would ponder these facts "every day as the daily number one problem."

He said former Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson had called the first Soviet earth satellite "a toy or a bauble, an accomplishment of no particular utility." He added:

"You can see why I am so pleased that he (Wilson) is not there anymore."

Rabi, Nobel Prize winning professor of physics at Columbia University, is chairman of the President's Scientific Advisory Council. He spoke extemporaneously at an annual luncheon of the Columbia Alumni Federation.

Rabi also was a member of the Gaither committee, which prepared the controversial classified report for President Eisenhower on the nation's defense status. He declined comment on the Gaither report "because I was a member of the committee."

Rabi said the Russian satellites proved that they "are capable of making an intercontinental ballistic missile."

One suggested defense against an ICBM is to explode a hydrogen bomb above the atmosphere in an attempt to destroy the oncoming weapon.

"What fun and fireworks we are going to have with these hydrogen bombs exploding overhead," Rabi said.

Farm Programs To Be Discussed

The new conservation reserve as well as existing soil bank programs will be discussed at four informational meetings to be held in the county Friday.

The meetings, starting at 1 p.m., will be held at Community Hall, Malcolm; Grange Hall, Waverly; American Legion Hall, Hickman; and Centerville Grange Hall, Centerville.

Mrs. Bertha Boeve, Firth, Dies At 83

Mrs. Bertha Boeve, 83, of Firth, a resident of the Lincoln and Firth area all her life, died Tuesday.

Mrs. Boeve, a native of Holland, Neb., was a member of Firth Reformed Church.

She is survived by her brother, Garret Lefferdink of Lincoln; two sisters, Miss Grace Lefferdink of Los Angeles, Calif., and Mrs. Josephine Cootney of Peru, and several nieces and nephews.

NEBRASKA HAS MORE CHICKEN POX, MUMPS

Thirty cases of chicken pox and 15 of mumps were reported last week to the State Health Department.

The figures compare with 19 chicken pox cases and just two mumps cases during the same week a year ago.

No new polio or influenza cases were listed in the weekly report issued by the Health Department.

A rabid cat in Lincoln County and another in Jefferson County brought the 1957 total of cases of rabies in animals to 46, compared with 65 last year.

Police Usher In New Year With Quadruplicate Tickets

New quadruplicate traffic tickets were put into use by the Lincoln police as bells and whistles welcomed in the New Year.

The new ticket form is about three times as big as the old summons left on drivers' windshields. The 8 1/2 by 4 1/2-inch tickets provide space for a complaint that formerly had to be typed separately by the traffic division.

Two copies will be retained for records purposes, the original will be filed by the court and the fourth, a cardboard copy complete with hole for wiper blades will go to the car owner.

Each violator convicted will face court costs for each ticket on which he is convicted, according to the police.

Where the traffic division saves work the court incurs more paper to shuffle. All offenses against one person formerly were written on one complaint. Now a separate complaint must be filed by the court for each offense.

Home Blaze Kills 3 Tots

HAZLEHURST, Miss. (INS)—Three small girls were burned to death Tuesday night when fire destroyed their frame home at Hazlehurst while their mother was out shopping.

The dead were identified as Pamela Sue Huntley, 1; her sister, Denise, 2; and their stepsister, Linda Ann Hodges, 3.

The mother, Mrs. Doris Jean Huntley, said she had left the children alone while she was shopping.

Elks Lodge 80 Plans 8 Awards To LHS Seniors

The Lincoln Elks Lodge No. 80 will present eight awards to Lincoln high school seniors, four based on scholarship and four for achievement, during 1958.

The "most valuable student" awards will be based primarily on scholarship and the youth leadership rewards will be based principally on leadership. In both categories first prizes of $100 will go to the top boy and top girl, and $50 prizes to the second-place boy and girl.

In addition to the four city-wide awards, the local winners become candidates in state and national contests which have total awards available of $40,000 in each of the two categories.

Max Pennington, exalted ruler, and Max Rezek, scholarship committee chairman, said detailed information on the awards is to be sent to each local high school principal.

Wilson Puts Some Blame On Public

... For Budget Cut

DETROIT (AP)—The American people got what they paid for in the way of missiles and space travel this year, former Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson said Tuesday.

He said he blamed the American people as much as Congress for cuts in money the Defense Department wanted in the year Russia became the first nation with an artificial satellite in outer space.

Still, he said, he does not believe the United States is behind Russia "in the overall picture." He predicted the United States would win if war broke out today.

Since he stepped out of the secretary of Defense's chair in October, Wilson said he has received letters from private citizens accusing him of bungling the nation's defense preparedness. Wilson held the job nearly five years.

"It's only natural when things go wrong for Americans to look for a fall guy or a goat," he said. "If some of them want me to be the goat, it's all right with me."

He said that despite his efforts to talk the President into raising his defense budget recommendation to 40 billion dollars, he agreed with Eisenhower that the "budget should be balanced before we can have a healthy military establishment."

Mom And Son, 5, Die In Apparent Murder, Suicide

KENNEWICK, Wash. (INS)—Tragedy brought death to a mother and her five-year-old son Tuesday in Kennewick when Mrs. Ruth Kilbourne, apparently beat and strangled her child, Bruce, then slashed her wrists and throat.

Police were advised of the double death by an older son, Larry, 15, who discovered the bodies when he returned home from playing in the neighborhood. The shaken youth told police over the telephone, "mother has just killed herself."

Investigators found the bodies in separate bedrooms.

The father and husband was summoned from nearby Pasco where he was at work.

Police said they could find no motive for Mrs. Kilbourne's action.

Sen. Sam Klaver Seeks Re-Election

Sen. Sam Klaver of Omaha filed Tuesday for renomination to the Nebraska Legislature representing the Sixth District.

Klaver, 56, first was elected to the Legislature in 1939. He was re-elected to serve in the 1943 and 1945 sessions, and has served continuously since the 1951 session.

He is an attorney and publisher of the Omaha Public Ledger.

Retailers Name Campbell To Work On Legislation

Dean Campbell, of Fairbury, second vice president of the Retail Merchants Association of Nebraska, was appointed chairman of a special committee which will confer with a state legislative committee appointed to draft legislation relating to service charges for budget and installment accounts and on interest charges generally.

The appointment was made at the Retail Merchants meeting held Monday, at Hastings.

Senator Marvin Bedford, of Geneva, chairman of the legislative committee addressed the merchants.

Campbell and Dan Campbell of Omaha were elected to the board of directors of the Association.

Hearing Set On Location Of Interstate

The Nebraska Highway Advisory Commission will hold a public hearing in Lincoln Jan. 28 on the proposed location of approximately 40 miles of the interstate highway system from the Gretna Fish Hatchery Corner to Pleasant Dale.

Scheduled to begin at 11 a.m., the hearing will be held in the West Senate Chamber of the State Capitol to give residents of the area an opportunity to express their opinions on the proposed route.

No estimate has been published on the cost of the miles involved in this strip of the four-lane super highway, but estimates on the 66-mile Omaha-Lincoln section of the interstate have been set at $72,000,000. This covers the area from the Missouri River to Pleasant Dale, but not the Missouri River crossing, according to L. N. Rens, state engineer.

A second hearing has been scheduled by the Commission for Jan. 29 at the Omaha City Hall at 10 a.m., to give residents of that area a chance to express themselves on proposals for three routes of the interstate through and around Omaha.

The first actual construction on Nebraska's part of the national super highway was begun in the fall of 1957 with contract's let for $11.3 million in the Omaha-Gretna area.

Rens has stated he expects "all construction in the Lincoln-Omaha areas" involving the interstate highway program to be completed by 1960.

Airliner Hits, Sinks; 9 Missing

... In Buenos Aires

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—A flying boat of the Argentine Airlines crashed and sank in Buenos Aires Harbor Tuesday and 9 of the 51 aboard were reported missing Tuesday night.

Earlier announcements said all aboard had been saved during the 20 minutes the four-engine plane remained afloat on the River Plate.

One of the missing was the purser. One of 9 passengers previously listed as missing turned up safe later.

Some hope was held that some of the missing may turn up at their home or at hospitals.

"Thank God" Shortly after the crash, the plane's captain told reporters, "Thank God, everybody aboard has been rescued."

A spokesman said divers were unable to reach the plane on the muddy river bottom Tuesday night but will try again in the morning.

Buenos Aires press reports late Tuesday afternoon said ten persons went down with the plane as it sank 20 minutes after hitting the water on a crash landing, but officials declined to confirm these reports.

The Sunderland plane had left on its regular flight to Asuncion, Paraguay, and was returning after encountering a storm. Passengers were rescued by motorboat and helicopter.

Vic Proclaims January 'March Of Dimes' Month

Gov. Victor Anderson Tuesday issued a proclamation designating January, 1958, as March of Dimes Month and urged all Nebraskans to join in contributing to the continued support of the work being done by the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis.

Pointing to the 20th anniversary of the March of Dimes, Gov. Anderson said that through this effort, the National Foundation has aided 325,000 polio patients during these years.

This also has been a pledge, he said, that "mere survival is not enough for the many thousands of crippled polio victims alive today who must still be restored to useful and productive life."

Engineers Criticize Ike Plan For More Scientists

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Society of Professional Engineers Tuesday criticized the Eisenhower administration program to promote the education of more scientists and engineers. The society said it would put a crushing burden on the nation's colleges.

Clark A. Dunn, society vice president, said that if the program is to emphasize scholarships for college undergraduates, it should also channel substantial funds to the colleges themselves so they can handle increased enrollments.

But Dunn, who directs the Engineering Experiment Station at Oklahoma State University, suggested in a statement that he questions the wisdom of granting 10,000 scholarships a year to undergraduates.

He said the society's studies have "indicated that the emphasis in science and engineering should be on quality rather than quantity."

Not Far Enough

The reaction of influential congressional Democrats generally has been that the administration plan is good but doesn't go far enough.

Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.), former president of the University of Arkansas, said, "I wish the administration had urged a bolder program." Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) called the plan "less than a half measure."

The administration proposes that Congress make available one billion dollars for a four-year program to provide college scholarships and grants to the states, on a matching basis, mainly to step up the quality and quantity of high school teaching in science and mathematics.

Fellowships

It also envisions limited grants to colleges, fellowships for graduate students and some other items.

Dunn said "it should be emphasized that tuition does not cover the cost of collegiate education. The difference must be made up from private or public assistance."

Dunn said the engineering society approves the plan to grant more graduate fellowships, give some financial support to graduate schools, and increase the funds available to the national science foundation.

He said any program enacted by Congress "should be confined to graduate work and assistance to the colleges in meeting the crushing burdens of increasing undergraduate enrollments."

Surviving are nieces, Mrs. J. H. Dean of Lincoln, and Mrs. Dena Ornes and Mrs. Hattie Lucas, both of Minneapolis, Minn.

December collections of $472,516 amounted to $91,742 more than for that month of last year.

John W. Marshall Dies At Age 88

John Wesley Marshall, 88, of 2236 So. 9th, died Tuesday.

He had lived in Lincoln about 50 years. Most of that time he worked as a porter on the CB&Q Railroad.

He was born in Lincoln, Neb., and lived in Lincoln, Minn., for many years.

He was a member of the Sacred Heart Church and a retired CB&Q yard foreman.

Surviving him are sons, Leo J. and Joseph D., both of Lincoln; one daughter, Mrs. B. G. Clark, of Cupertino, Calif.; 11 grandchildren and 25 great-grandchildren.

Two of Remender's companions in the escapade, William Gardner Jr., 17, and Robert Cannon, 19, both of Norfolk, also pleaded guilty in County Court to petit larceny charges. They also were fined $25 each.

A fourth youth who had accompanied them from Norfolk reportedly was visiting a girl friend at the time, and no charges were filed against him.

Remender was shot by Charles L. Sipp of 1105 So. 14th. Sipp reported to police he was awakened by noise outside his home, and when he looked out he saw a youth attempting to pry off the hubcaps on his car.

Sipp told police he went to the door of his home and fired a .38 caliber pistol shot at the youth as he ran away from the car. The bullet hit Remender in the upper arm, and he was treated for a flesh wound at a Norfolk hospital.

Norfolk authorities reported Remender and his companions told their parents about the incident, and the parents reported it to police there. A search for the youths in Lincoln had failed to turn up any trace of them.

The youth, Merlin R. Remender, pleaded guilty to a petit larceny charge filed in connection with the hubcap thefts and was fined $25 by Judge Herbert Ronin.

Remender told the judge that his arm "is still a little sore" from the bullet wound.

Members of Ebenezer Congregational Church, at their annual meeting elected Ralph Giebelhaus new chairman of the board.

Others elected were Walter Schwabauer, secretary; Joseph P. Damm, treasurer; George Nolda, Fred Schwabauer and Einer Christensen, trustees.

Wilbur H. Amen was named Sunday School superintendent and Mrs. John B. Becker, assistant.

The Rev. C. George Kuhn, pastor, said plans were discussed for a fund for a new organ.

Sipp told police he went to the door of his home and fired a .38 caliber pistol shot at the youth as he ran away from the car. The bullet hit Remender in the upper arm, and he was treated for a flesh wound at a Norfolk hospital.

Norfolk authorities reported Remender and his companions told their parents about the incident, and the parents reported it to police there. A search for the youths in Lincoln had failed to turn up any trace of them.

The youth, Merlin R. Remender, pleaded guilty to a petit larceny charge filed in connection with the hubcap thefts and was fined $25 by Judge Herbert Ronin.

Remender told the judge that his arm "is still a little sore" from the bullet wound.

William J. Kelly, 89, of 610 No. 30th, died Tuesday.

Mr. Kelly lived in Lincoln for 60 years. He was a member of Sacred Heart Church and a retired CB&Q yard foreman.

Surviving him are sons, Leo J. and Joseph D., both of Lincoln; one daughter, Mrs. B. G. Clark, of Cupertino, Calif.; 11 grandchildren and 25 great-grandchildren.

Two of Remender's companions in the escapade, William Gardner Jr., 17, and Robert Cannon, 19, both of Norfolk, also pleaded guilty in County Court to petit larceny charges. They also were fined $25 each.

A fourth youth who had accompanied them from Norfolk reportedly was visiting a girl friend at the time, and no charges were filed against him.

Remender was shot by Charles L. Sipp of 1105 So. 14th. Sipp reported to police he was awakened by noise outside his home, and when he looked out he saw a youth attempting to pry off the hubcaps on his car.

Everyone's Job

Nebraska didn't make it. Its goal of less than 300 traffic fatalities in 1957 collapsed 48 hours before the year ended when the state's three hundredth death was recorded. It was a disappointing finish for a year that for so long was so promising. Nevertheless, there was some comfort to be derived. There was reasonable assurance that 1957 would not reach the death figure of 315 which marked 1956. Any betterment in terms of life saving is occasion for satisfaction.

Nebraska has not fallen below an annual figure of 300 or more traffic deaths in many years and a breakthrough continues to be its most desirable objective—not as a final goal, but as an important step on the way to whatever is the elimination of preventable accidents. Today the state being so near and yet so far from its breakthrough can look forward to 1958. Possibly this is the year when it will happen. Each Nebraskaan is reminded that it can happen and one day will happen. That day will result when the obligations for safety are carried by everyone who travels the highways. It is one job that cannot be delegated.

It is something to keep in mind at this time when personal resolves for the year are in the making.

Who's Kidding Who?

If the Eisenhower administration is going to continue to hide from the American people the facts of the Gaither report on this nation's defense status, you would think there would at least be agreement as to what was being hidden. President Eisenhower has been reported to have declined release of the report because it called for such a staggering defense appropriation that the American people would never approve of it.

In other quarters, parts of the report which have leaked out have been to the effect that it shows the United States as dangerously close to being a second rate power militarily. Unless the trend is changed, the U.S. could be bargaining with Russia from weakness rather than strength within the next two or three years, the report supposedly says.

Events Dictating Change

Nebraska school figures exercised thoughtful restraint in their appraisal of President Eisenhower's $4 billion dollar federal aid to education program. They preferred to wait until they had read the fine print and also until the coming Congress had worked over the President's suggestions.

However, the consensus of Nebraska opinion was that the time of change has arrived and that some form of federal aid education is just around the corner. Those who wish to continue the debate are to be reminded that events

The Year Ahead

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

It comes every 12 months, New Year's, but it never seems to grow old. Every time it happens, it brings with it a renewed spirit of dedication to accomplishment. It is a time when old habits are thrown away, at least mentally, and more progressive ones are pushed ahead. The things that have bothered us in the past or that have continually caused us difficulty seem to be washed away in the freshness of a new year. Many people take this period as a time for personal inventory of themselves and their lives. There is reviewing of the old year and hopeful prophecy for the coming months.

There is little doubt that 1958 will bring a great many new things into the lives of all of us. Personally, families will deal with the arrival of a new son or daughter, a new job, a different house or city, new friends and other events and activities which constitute our daily living. Along with these things will come a wide variety of reactions. There will be great rewards for some in 1958, great satisfaction and great achievement. At the same time, there will be sorrow, disappointment and failure to mar the scene of our existence. It can be hoped, however, that while some adversity must be expected, there will not be so much that it cannot be overcome. Indeed, without some setbacks or challenges, there would be room for little satisfaction. What happiness can come from simply taking in stride the ordinary and simple day-to-day events? There must be more than the routine—more than the expected—if there are to be the rewards that come from successfully meeting a challenge.

There is hope, then, for an eventful year in 1958 in a personal sense as well as in the affairs of the state and nation. The new year is welcome with the opportunity it affords for self-analysis. In the constant struggle of daily affairs it is sometimes too easy to become discouraged or satisfied with something less than perfection. It is not often that perfection will be reached in anything we do but it is essential that we look upon it as a constant goal. We must seek to extend ourselves beyond our considered capacity if we are to take advantage of our potential. If we are not to lose something along the way, we must strive for that which seems in the beginning impossible to reach.

The new year offers us the perfect time during which to set those goals we want to reach. It is a time when we can discard old methods and ideas that have not been successful and look for a new approach to our problems. This is a process by which everyone can profit. Just as the scientist might develop a new theory for the solution to a problem, the housewife might find new ways or new thoughts on meeting her responsibilities, and the working man a better understanding of his capabilities and what is expected of him. Individually, everyone can take a backward glance in the hope of improving areas where faults can be seen. It is a refreshing experience even though it might not always produce the desired results. Involved at New Year's is a sort of dreaming to be followed with experimenting. The great men and women of history often met failure as well as success but they never ceased trying to improve upon that which they came in contact.

In world affairs which affect us all, the same principles of New Year's that apply to individuals can be of equal value. No sudden change in economic, foreign, military or social policies can be expected on Jan. 1 but certainly the men who shape such policy can gain as much as any individual from an honest searching of the results of present thinking. This is a day when all of us look ahead with vision, hope and determination. It is a day of dedication to a better way of life for all through the application of understanding, kindness and wisdom.

1958 Could Be Crucial For U.S.

WASHINGTON — Predictions for the New Year—1958 may be one of the most crucial years in history. It may see the tide turn toward peace with Russia—or start a deterioration of our relations toward war. Russia for the first time is now able to call the shots. Power lies in the Kremlin's hands. American prestige around the world has sunk to a low unequalled since our civil war. In Europe there is frustration with American leadership bordering on disgust. Even in Latin America our once staunch friends are drifting away . . . whether 1958 sees an upturn for peace or downturn for war will depend chiefly on whether Russia really wants peace. She has the bargaining cards in her hands—as will be shown by the Gaither report—if ever published. American ability to pull in our belts, put missiles ahead of Edsels, will be important, but not as important as our diplomatic skill . . . the Kremlin's temptation will be to move now when the odds are heavy on its side. Russia would win a preventive war today. Two years ago she couldn't. But if the Kremlin sees the United States going ahead with missile bases in West Europe, pressure could be heavy in the Soviet presidium to move while it has the upper hand . . . no one can predict what will happen on this front in 1958, except that Russia has the decision.

Weather to Veterans—1958 will see some radical attempts to control the weather, including a plan to sprinkle oil on the waves in advance of hurricanes, then light the oil to change or modify the hurricane . . . postage stamps at long last will be increased. In 1958 you'll be paying four cents instead of three for a stamp . . . there will be no tax cut in 1958 . . . Congressman Wilbur Mills, new chairman of the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee, will try to abolish the $50 tax exemption for stock dividends which he says helps the stock market. He'll propose a $600 personal exemption instead . . . veterans will be among the chief sufferers as a result of missile expenditures. Veterans hospitals will be cut, plus pension benefits. The administration will argue that the U.S.A. is becoming a nation of veterans, therefore they don't deserve special treatment . . . Alaska will become the 49th state . . . Benson's plan to end family farming will fail; also his plan to reduce price supports for wheat, cotton, corn, tobacco, peanuts, rice. The farm budget will continue at $5,000,000 (B) and farm surpluses will be about the same . . . despite inflation there'll be no salary increases for civil servants—except for scientific and military personnel . . . Pan American Airways will start operating 600-mile-an-hour jet airliners in 1958, thus beginning the first jet service for the American public. Airplane fares will go up 15 per cent.

Will Ike Resign in 1958?—Empty Christmas stockings in Washington was Vice President Nixon's. One month ago it looked as if he might be in the White House or else given vitally important new powers . . . but Ike is now determined to stay on, come what may, and the palace guard has pushed Nixon off the White House threshold.

What Will Your Dollar Buy in 1958?—A dollar today is worth just 22 cents less than in 1948. Its purchasing power has dropped six cents in the last two years alone . . . with more money pumped into the economy without wage-price controls, the dollar will be even less. 1958 will be a hard year on white-collar workers, pensioners, those depending on life insurance policies. ## A Good Hooked Rug Long In The Making Ever since she read a piece in the paper the other day about a hooked rug in Maquoketa, Iowa, my wife has been brooding. All hooked rug makers are jealous of one another, and like to be on the spot to make comparisons.

The Maquoketa hooked rug, according to the story in the paper, covers the risers on the stairway in a farm house owned by Oscar Skott. It was made by his sister, Mrs. Margaret Siders, and depicts the history of the Skott farm since it was settled by Mr. and Mrs. Hans Skott in 1866.

The trouble with Mrs. F.'s rug hooking is that, unlike Mrs. Sider's, it cannot keep up with history, much less outrun it. She has been more or less working for three years to poke-and-pull a picture of a couple of mallard ducks rising from a marsh. The mallard rug, as we hopefully call it, is complete as to ducks and marsh, but there is an awful lot of sky still to be cut up and inserted into the burlap. The way it is now, the ducks are heading for a surprise if they rise any higher before there is some sky for them to get into.

Where the newspaper account of the Skott rug caused trouble was that Mrs. F. thought it was a good idea. She wondered why she hadn't thought of it. She said maybe she ought to start another rug right away, with our family history in it.

"Look at that gray on the female mallard's breast," I pointed out. "It's not only true to nature, but it also is what's left of the pair of gray socks I was wearing the day I got a smoldering piece of charcoal in my shoe while tending hamburgers at a barbecue. Remember? And if that's not history, I never had a hotfoot."

Mrs. F. nodded. "Come to think of it," she agreed, "some of the cattails in the marsh, there, are from the skirt Merilee ripped down the back climbing through a barbed wire fence on our vacation four years ago. She didn't have anything to cover the place with, remember, and had to walk two miles turning backwards every time we met someone."

After that, piece by piece, we identified various parts of marsh and ducks as having been, originally, an item of clothing which had featured in some more or less memorable event of family history. Finally Mrs. F. seemed satisfied that there is more than one way to put history into a rug.

"And the nice thing," she said, "is that I can wait to finish it until something else important happens." I'm afraid that sky will never get done.

Demos See 1958 Clearer Than 1960

WASHINGTON — Democrats hope to find in 1958 their issues and their candidates for the presidential election in 1960.

Their bright prospects for strengthening their control of Congress in the midterm elections next year have been well publicized. They have been underscored by the announced resignations of five Republican senators and six Republican representatives.

Especially active and well financed Democratic congressional campaign committees are in the field already. They are aiding in the search for candidates where attractive possibilities seem to be lacking and they are promising all kinds of congressional co-operation to the state organizations.

No such clarity and sense of direction exist with respect to 1960. Possibly the very fact that they do not is helping the often-stormy Democrats to pursue with such unity of purpose their present congressional aims.

For it is generally agreed that so far as the next presidential contest is concerned, no Democrat is ahead of any other and no one can yet be sure of what the overriding issues will be.

Some of the ways in which 1960 will be different from the recent past are apparent.

Take the primaries, for example. No one national figure is far enough in front of all the rest, or likely to be, who will inevitably be challenged to a test of strength in different parts of the country.

Also, that primary pace-setter of 1952 and 1956, the indefatigable Estes Kefauver, must run for reelection to the Senate in 1960. Governor Frank G. Clement is already threatening him with a contest for the nomination. This means that Kefauver must devote himself to shaking the hands of Tennesseans if he is to survive at all.

The turn of events abroad has led to a revival of sentiment for Adlai Stevenson. One thing certainly can be said of that candidacy if it materializes: Stevenson will not go into any primaries. Nor will that other elder statesman, Governor Averell Harriman of New York, whose prophetic luster has been enhanced by present developments in foreign affairs.

The chances are overwhelming that the primaries will be left to the favorite sons instead of furnishing the decisive drama as California did in 1956.

By this time also in recent past elections the men most talked about for the Democratic nomination seemed to be strengthening their positions with each passing month. This is probably going to be true in the Republican party where Vice-President Richard M. Nixon has such unusual opportunities to keep himself in the public eye.

Nixon Getting The Big Build-up

WASHINGTON — Vice-President Richard M. Nixon is enjoying in Florida one of the rare vacations that he has permitted himself in a career of intensive and unceasing drive.

When he comes back about the time Congress returns, he will have recharged the reservoir of energy which has helped to push him upward and onward in his meteoric career. The end of the year and President Eisenhower's third illness saw a great acceleration in that career.

Many powerful Republicans, conspicuously in the publishing field, were more or less frank in expressing their belief that the country would be better served if Nixon could replace the President. Their ardor for the change cooled somewhat when it was realized that, under the 22nd amendment, if he served out more than two years of the unexpired Eisenhower term, he would be eligible for only one elective term. A one-term president is automatically under a severe handicap.

Nevertheless, the Nixon face and the Nixon record were given new and glowing currency. He was portrayed as the grave and capable, yet youthful and appealing, regent as well as the heir apparent to the White House.

Among the hundreds of persons with whom he talked during the past year was one of London's noted liberal editors. The vice-president spoke with his keen articulateness for more than half an hour of the need for American foreign aid and technical assistance, America's information program, America's world responsibility. Greatly impressed, the editor said he had a question he wanted to ask, but he hesitated. Nixon urged him to put any question that was in his mind.

"I wanted to ask," said the editor, "how anyone who has spoken with your sense of responsibility and your awareness can have done what you did to Helen Gahagan Douglas in your senatorial campaign in 1950."

According to one of those present, Nixon, with a troubled and discomfited look on his face, replied, "All I can say is that I was very young and very ambitious and I am sorry." The British editor was deeply impressed by this frank confession of the "New Nixon."

The vice-president was quoted the other day in an extreme right wing magazine as saying that he opposed the move to reinstate the security clearance of J. Robert Oppenheimer, the distinguished physicist who organized the Los Alamos laboratory and contributed as much as any single individual to the development of atomic fission and the atomic bomb.

The Atomic Energy Commission, on a split vote, found Oppenheimer to be a security risk after an extraordinary hearing that stripped bare his whole life. Recently many noted scientists and others concerned over the American scientific and technical lag have suggested that the Oppenheimer case be reopened so that he might have an opportunity to be cleared and his brain put to work on government projects again.

When Nixon's office was asked about the statement attributed to him on Oppenheimer, the response was "no comment." This has served as a reminder of the "Old Nixon" who as late as 1954, in exploiting the Communist-in-Government issue, drove another distinguished physicist, Dr. Edward U. Condon, out of government service although Condon had been repeatedly cleared.

The admirers of the "Old Nixon" are not the admirers of the "New Nixon." Whether he can keep both sets is more and more doubtful. The old admirers are inclined today to take a jaundiced view of the expedient New Nixon. But he is not a man to be underestimated. Like a multi-staged rocket, he achieves one altitude only to zoom on to another, leaving critics and admirers alike dazzled.

American Ego Deflated

Editor's Note—These are the high points of an address delivered recently by Newspaper Publisher John Cowles.

The international situation is much more serious than most people assume. Unless we decide to do a lot of things Americans are not yet convinced we must or should do. I don't think it is an exaggeration to say that the international picture is, or may shortly become, dangerously critical.

We Americans have made a great error in underestimating the speed of Russian industrial and scientific development. Our margin of national security, our very margin of survival if war comes, has been steadily shrinking.

Even if we do greatly step up our military research and development efforts—and I am convinced that we will—that will not by itself be enough to preserve permanently our margin of superiority, our national security. Unless we also greatly improve our scientific training in this country at all educational levels—high school as well as college—and perhaps double the number of boys who become scientists, we won't be able permanently to maintain superiority over Russia.

The Soviet earth satellites, Sputniks I and II, will prove to be the luckiest things that could have happened to America if they have jarred us out of our complacency and overconfidence.

Because America has outstripped the rest of the world in assembly-line mass-production, we have erroneously assumed that we have equal world superiority in abstract scientific brains. That simply isn't true.

We couldn't have made the atomic bomb without the help of Nils Bohr, the Dane; Fermi, the Italian; Szilard, the Hungarian, and many other foreigners. Edward Teller, another Hungarian scientist in the United States, is the father of the hydrogen bomb.

In addition to increased foreign economic aid, primarily in Asia I believe we are going to have to increase our military budget substantially.

We must step up our expenditures greatly not only for missile research and development but also for antimissile missiles and for early warning defense against missiles. We need also to expand greatly our air-lift capacity to transport men and weapons quickly to any part of the world where a brush-fire war might start.

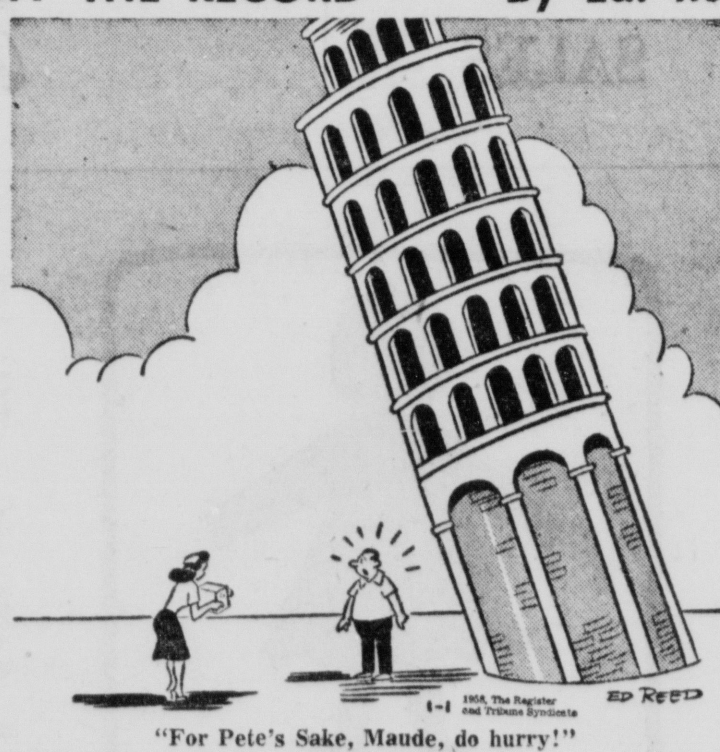

Of course, we want maximum economy in government, and we may be able to eliminate or reduce or postpone other expenditures, but I believe our total federal budget must be increased next year.

I agree with Prime Minister Macmillan that never has the Soviet threat been so great as it is now. It seems inescapable to me that we are probably going to have to live our lives in an atmosphere of grave peril for years ahead, until eventually we bring about a world of peace, based on world law.

If we are to be successful in eventually achieving a world of peace, we can accomplish it only if we keep our minds open to the realization that we are living in a revolutionary age, and that new times require new ideas.

Kline Hits Ike's Education Program

Failure by Nebraska to match the estimated $5 million available under President Eisenhower's proposed $1.6 billion program to aid education, could result in the federal government's having to assume Nebraska's share of the burden, Don Kline, executive secretary of the Nebraska State Education Association, said Tuesday.

If Nebraska fails to participate in the President's proposed program, he explained, "the state will be forced to accept the proposals as desired by the other states."

This could result in the loss of all local control over education, and "complete federal control" in this field, he added.

'Too Little, Too Late'

Stating that Eisenhower's education program would be one of the "top news stories of 1957," Kline said he believed the proposal "is really too little, too late."

In a speech before the Lincoln Rotary Club, Kline said: "It is up to us to decide what needs to be done, and we need to do what needs to be done rather than to do that which is easy."

The NSEA executive continued that the "matter of a few scholarships is easy, appropriation of monies from the federal government for improvement of laboratories in the high schools is not difficult, and increasing appropriations to the National Science Foundation is not hard."

The Toughest Still Ahead

But in his opinion, the difficult problems "are still ahead of us" such as the problem of "adequate finance for all education . . . one which we must solve in our own

Liquor Commission Collections Drop

State Liquor Control Commission collections during 1957 totaled $2,976,380.45, some $15,000 less in revenue than the previous year, according to Chairman Ray Osborn.

Expenditures totaled $192,684.69, compared with $190,671.34 the previous year, Osborn said in his annual report to the governor.

Nebraskans consumed 23,493,396 gallons of alcoholic beverages in 1957, the report noted.

Minors were "one of our major problems" during 1957, when 255 of them were convicted of liquor law violations, Osborn said.

state in our own way . . . but solve it we must."

Taking sharp exception to the proposal by 11 University of Nebraska Arts and Science professors that more emphasis be placed on what teachers teach rather than how they teach, Kline said revising and relaxing teacher certification at the University would "drive the public schools into the arms of the State Teachers colleges for their teachers."

The real problem of education, Kline said, is "how do we teach the human mind to absorb more and more in less and less time."

He declared the job of the educator "is to know how to teach better and better."

1,725 Farm Workers Take Jobs In Month

The State Division of Employment Security reported it placed 1,725 farm and ranch workers on jobs during the past four weeks.

Farm workers generally were employed in the corn and sorghum harvest, the Division reported. Demand for workers to glean corn has been brisk in many parts of the state.

Vic Counts State's Blessings In '57

Gov. Victor Anderson, reflecting on the past year, said Tuesday that Nebraskans have much to be thankful for in the "bountiful crop we had this year and for the subsoil moisture we have now—the best in five years."

The chief executive noted that the state has had a profitable year in attracting industry "and the prospects for more are very good."

He expressed the wish to extend "to each and every Nebraska citizen my very best wishes for a happy and prosperous New Year."

Study at a Children's Hospital Shows Need for New, Iron-Rich, Dairy Product...

VITA-MINERAL MILK

each quart supplies the daily minimum requirements of nine essential vitamins and minerals !

A recent study made at a children's hospital revealed many cases of severe anemia in infants, due to a faulty diet.

According to a prominent pathologist, who confirmed this report, the major cause of this condition in youngsters is the lack of important iron needed for rich, red blood.

Sufficient iron in the diet, together with other necessary minerals and vitamins, would help correct this deficiency, he said... would lessen susceptibility to infection.

Roberts Vita-Mineral Milk meets this need!

Roberts Vita-Mineral Milk offers you an easy, economical, "can't forget" way to supplement your family's diet with the essential vitamins and minerals needed for glowing good health.

Each quart supplies the daily minimum requirements of Vitamin A, Vitamin B-1, Vitamin B-2, Niacin, Vitamin D, Calcium, Phosphorus, Iodine and Iron.

There is no difference in appearance or flavor. The only change that has been made is to improve this product nutritionally by increasing the amount of vitamins and minerals naturally present in milk.

And now you can serve your family all nine of these important nutrients — safely and simply — when you reach for Roberts Vita-Mineral Milk!

Buy it in quarts or half-gallons at your door or store.

Normal Board Delivers Point-By-Point Reply To Critical Audit Of State Colleges

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

The State Normal Board Tuesday delivered to State Auditor Ray Johnson its point-by-point answers to a critical audit made of the four state teachers colleges last month with the statement that the colleges are complying with most recommendations for changes in bookkeeping procedures.

Johnson had charged the colleges with improper bookkeeping methods and questioned several of their expenditures at a meeting with the Board Nov. 23. He gave them until Jan. 1 to make the changes recommended.

"You may be assured," the Board told Johnson, "that where questions of proper procedure have arisen in connection with the current audit, that they were largely due to misinterpretation of requirements and of normal human error rather than of deliberate design."

The state auditor said he wants to go over the report before making any comment on it.

Chief among the charges against the colleges was the improper expenditure of some $26,000 on dormitory maintenance from tax funds. Dormitories are supposed to be self-supporting.

Ask Instructions

Each college said further compliance "will be given upon your (Johnson's) specific instructions as to procedure and an itemization of the vouchers paid and included in the tabulation found in the audit."

The audit also questioned expense account payments to Peru President Dr. Neal S. Gomon out of the school's $5,000 revolving fund. Such expense claims should have been filed through the state auditor's office in the regulation manner, the audit contended.

The Board replied that Dr. Gomon had reimbursed the revolving fund on some of the items questioned.

Referring to a $750 reimbursement covering three expense checks of $250 each, for three trips, the answer said:

Some Receipts Found

"Some receipts and other documentary evidence have been found supporting a new expense voucher to be filed; receipts and such other documentary evidence as required in support of a subsequent expense voucher will be presented as soon as they are available."

Gomon said at Peru it is possible the new itemized expense claim may exceed the $750 originally claimed.

The Board said Gomon had reclaimed a deep freeze and refrigerator sold the college and repaid the revolving fund the $650 received for them.

University Club Dues

Other reimbursements made by Dr. Gomon, the report continued, include $61.50 for dues to the Lincoln University Club.

The reply added that if the auditor indicates it should be done, reimbursement will be made for a questioned $36 payment for a dinner for members of the Normal Board and college personnel.

At Chadron State Teachers College, Dr. Barton Kline, president, has reclaimed a mangle sold to the school and has reimbursed college funds for the $100 he originally received for the appliance.

The Board report defended Dr.

Kline's personal purchase of cattle for the college cafeteria, for which he was reimbursed, and said Dr. Kline was paid only in the amount of $590.77 for the cattle purchased at a 4-H baby beef sale.

Credit Cards

At Kearney, the Board said all state gas and oil credit cards have been collected and will be made available to college employees only when a state-owned car is checked out.

Johnson had charged the state credit cards were used by college personnel for their own personal automobiles.

Kearney also will give full compliance to the recommendation that totals be locked in college cash registers, the report continued.

Referring to a shortage in the "Men's Student Loan Fund" at Kearney, the Board said the college "accepts no responsibility for this organization inasmuch as they have their own officers and treasurer."

Wayne College also reported that it would comply with the recommendations of the Auditor's office but asked for further explanation of some items contained in the audit to help in the compliance.

Ask Consultation

The Board "earnestly" requested that "in the future," the auditor's employees "consult" with the bursar or president of each college "if they are unable to understand a particular transaction or procedure."

"If this is done," the report continued, "we are quite sure many questions could be quickly and satisfactorily explained."

Stating that it is the "desire" of the Board and its employees to "maintain an adequate system of records in accordance with the provisions of the law," the report said any suggestions or recommendations from the auditor would be "gratefully received."

The Board also requested that such recommendations "be made in writing" to avoid "misunderstandings."

Outlook Bright For Livestock In 1958—Coffee

OMAHA (AP)—The outlook for the livestock industry in 1958 is bright, Harry B. Coffee, president of the Union Stock Yards Company of Omaha declared Tuesday.

There are abundant feed supplies and higher prices prevail for all species, he said. He added that "about 70 per cent of the cash farm income in Nebraska is derived from the sale of livestock and livestock products."

Although final figures have not been compiled, Coffee said Omaha again leads Chicago to rank as the world's largest livestock market and meat packing center.

"Omaha's total livestock receipts for the year 1957 exceed those of Chicago by approximately 2 per cent," Coffee said. "As a meat packing center, Omaha slaughtered, under federal inspection, approximately 40 per cent more cattle, hogs, and sheep in 1957 than did Chicago."

Coffee said Chicago would lead Omaha in salable receipts, however, "just as they did last year."

He said Omaha's total included shipments direct to packers which went through the stockyards, but not those which the packers took direct without routing them through the yards. Two of the four major packers received their direct shipments through the yards, he said.

Power Head Says Talks Progressing

Ray Schacht, general manager of Consumers Public Power District, reported after a Tuesday meeting with D. J. DeBoer, that informal talks on reducing two generally parallel proposals for power peace in Nebraska are "still progressing."

DeBoer, executive director of the Nebraska Public Power System, and Schacht, are meeting to iron out differences in the proposals submitted by their two power firms so that a final contract can be drawn up.

The high level discussions are expected to last until the end of January when directors' meetings of the two firms are next scheduled to meet and review progress of the negotiations.

Schacht said that another meeting later this week will probably be scheduled.

Betrothal Announced

MISS PEGGY ANN MATHERS AND FIANCE

Dr. and Mrs. E. S. Mathers this morning are announcing the betrothal of their daughter, Peggy Ann, to Robert D. Berguin, son of Mrs. Frank Berguin of Sioux Falls, S. D., and the late Mr. Berguin.

Plans are being made for a wedding in July.

A graduate of the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Pi Beta Phi, Miss Mathers is a member of the public schools faculty at Northbrook, Ill.

Mr. Berguin, who is in Lincoln this week as the guest of his fiancée and her parents, is serving as a second lieutenant with the Marine Corps at Quantico, Va. He is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where he was a member of the Varsity football team and N Club, and served as president of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

Dear Abby . . .

A Wedding Ring Story!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Please print this for the lady who felt hurt because her husband who was an electrician refused to wear his wedding ring to work. The widow of an electrician told me how she lost her husband. A tiny hole had worn through the insulating glove where his ring was. While working, the fatal contact was made and he died instantly. When his lifeless body was examined, the only sign of injury was a tiny burn where his ring encircled his finger. So let me tell you, lady, if you want to become an electrician's widow, put a big gold wedding ring on your husband's finger and insist that he wear it to work.

ELECTRICIAN'S FRIEND

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for ten months and have a problem. My husband comes home from work, eats supper, puts his nose in the paper and hardly says a word. Then he gets into bed, mumbles a few words and turns over and goes to sleep. Please help me.

LONESOME
DEAR LONESOME: What are the "few words" he mumbles? You could be missing something!

DEAR ABBY: Before my boyfriend went into Service he told me secretly that he was sending me a ring for Christmas. It didn't come, so I drew my money out of the bank and bought myself one and told my family and friends that he sent it to me. My boyfriend knows nothing about this and now I am afraid somebody might write him and congratulate him. I can't sleep nights for worrying about it. I know I did wrong but what do I do now?

DID WRONG
DEAR DID: Write to your boyfriend immediately and give him the facts, Ma'm. I wish you luck, but don't be surprised if he asks you to send him a "Dear John" letter officially breaking the "engagement."

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Pre-Dance Party In Eastridge

A gala affair on Tuesday evening in Eastridge was the "open house" given by Mr. and Mrs. Gaylord Cole whose guests were fifteen neighborhood couples who gathered for New Year's Eve festivities before attending the Trend Dancing party.

Committee chairman for the annual Trend Dancing holiday party were Dr. and Mrs. Louis Gilbert whose assistants were Mr. and Mrs. David Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Artt, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Carothers, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Grantski, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gray, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holbert.

Included among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Schroeder, Capt. and Mrs. David McIntire, Mr. and Mrs. Mel Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Moseman, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Schmieding, Mr. and Mrs. John Burnham, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kreider, Mr. and Mrs. Boo Buchanan, Mr. and Mrs. Del Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Shaffer, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cusack, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Gibbons, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Reams.

TOWN TALK

A HAPPY and bright New Year's morning to you, and no doubt the brightest group in town this morning are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Selmer Solheim who have been invited for an 11 o'clock to 2 o'clock "Black Coffee" party at the Solheim home.

An annual affair, the brunch will be attended by approximately 80 friends of the host and hostess.

The Solheims, incidentally, returned home just in time to celebrate the New Year as they spent the first part of the holiday season vacationing at Winter Park, Colo., with their children, Steve, Fred, Cherie and Bob.

NEWS of a betrothal this morning concerns Miss Dallas Ann Hunt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald R. Hunt, whose engagement to James Shields, son of Mr. and Mrs. Berlyn Shields of Falls City, has been announced.

No definite date has been set for the wedding.

A student at the University of Nebraska, where she is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma, Miss Hunt was named Miss Rodeo of America in 1956-57. Her fiancé has attended Kansas State College, Manhattan, Kan., and will graduate from the School of Veterinary Medicine in June. He is a member of Sigma Chi.

A PRE-PARTY host and hostess New Year's Eve were Mr. and Mrs. William Fenton who entertained at the home preceding the Gay Nighters dinner-dance.

AND entertaining at an informal canape party last evening preceding the New Year's Eve dance of the Trend Club were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sim, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cherry and Mr. and Mrs. William Lofink, who were hosts and hostesses to 20 couples at the Lofink home.

BEFORE the week end fades too far in the distance we must tell you that Dr. and Mrs. Hiram Hilton entertained informally at an open house on Sunday afternoon.

And speaking of the Hiltons reminds us that their guests earlier last week were Mrs. Hilton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wilson, who left on Saturday to return to their home in Chicago after spending Christmas with their son-in-law and daughter.

ALSO guests in Lincoln for the holiday season were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith of Kansas City who visited Mr. Smith's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Clark W. Faulkner.

TRAVELERS in the news are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Whitten, Mrs. Donald Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williams who have been holiday vacationers at the Broadmoor Hotel in Colorado Springs.

AND arriving on Tuesday afternoon just in time to greet the New Year was the very young Miss Olson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Olson, who was born at St. Elizabeth Hospital. The baby's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Olson of Lisco, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard O. Johnson, and her mother is the former Miss Joyce Johnson, Alpha Chi Omega at the University of Nebraska.

LEARNED that Lt. Col. and Mrs. Corliss Potman of Blue Ridge Summit, Pa., are spending the holiday week in Lincoln as the guests of Col. Potman's mother, Mrs. Lula Bagley, and also visiting their son, Ned Potman, who is a student at the University of Nebraska.

MORE news of holiday guests include Lt. Col. and Mrs. Fonda Rock of Sioux City, Ia., who are in Lincoln visiting Col. Rock's mother, Mrs. Bryant Moore, and Mr. Moore.

Cotillion Pink Champagne Ball

Members and guests of the Cotillion Club celebrated the arrival of 1958 with a Pink Champagne Ball held at the Hotel Cornhusker on Tuesday evening.

In charge of arrangements for the dinner-dance were Mr. and Mrs. William H. Browne, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Spangler, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Jack Guenzel and Mr. and Mrs. John Weingarten.

Included among the new mem-

John L. Weingarten, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Browne, Mr. and Mrs. William Gold II, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Guenzel.

Marriage Solemnized

The marriage of Miss Jeanette Blattert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Blattert of Scottsbluff, to Burton C. Becker, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Becker of Stanton, was solemnized Saturday evening, Dec. 28, at St. John's Lutheran Church in Stanton. All-white blossoms and evergreen boughs formed the background for the 7 o'clock service, which was read by the Rev. L. F. Groth, and the wedding music was played by Otto Schenk, organist. Miss Marilyn Locke was the vocal soloist.

As her sister's matron of honor, Mrs. Dale Zurcher of Oakland appeared in a sheath frock of American Beauty red velvet. Costumed identically was the bridesmatron, Mrs. Harvey Osborn of Stanton. The attendants carried white velveteen muffs, each ornamented with a single red rose, and wore head bandeaux of the white velveteen with silver trim.

William Beene of Lincoln served as best man, and the ushers were Kenneth Frank, Jack Pollock and LaVaughn Boldt, all of Stanton.

For her wedding, the bride wore a gown of white tulle and lace over satin. The molded bodice of lace was designed with a portrait neckline and long, tapered sleeves, and the lace motif was repeated in floral appliques to trim the full, tulle skirt which was waist length. A bandeau of iridescent sequins held her shoulder veil of illusion, and she carried a crescent of American Beauty roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Becker will make their home at 603 No. 28th, in Lincoln, where both are students at the University of Nebraska. A former student at Wayne State College, Mr. Becker is a veteran of four years service with the Navy.

Hostesses At Silver Bells Tea

A group of young ladies, seniors at Lincoln High School, were hostesses on Tuesday afternoon to friends at the Silver Bells Tea held at the home of Miss Barbara Phillips.

Had Chapel Wedding

MRS. JAMES K. PUTNAM

Miss Kathleen Welch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle A. Welch, became the bride of 1st. Lt. James K. Putnam, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Putnam of Hillsboro, Tex., at an 8 o'clock ceremony solemnized Saturday evening, Dec. 28, in the chapel of the First Baptist Church. Bouquets of white gladioli and garnet snapdragons formed the background for the candlelight service, which was read by Dr. Gordon H. Schroeder, and Mrs. Milburn Johnson, organist, played the wedding music and accompanied John Cole, vocalist.

The maid of honor was Miss Wilma Birky of Denver who wore a daytime frock in antique gold crepe with white accessories. She carried a bouquet of white, feathered carnations.

Lt. Phil H. Heideck of the Lincoln Air Force Base served as best man, and seating the guests was Louis B. Austin.

For her wedding, the bride wore a gown of blue lace fashioned in the after-five length. Abbreviated sleeves and a Sabrina neckline accented the fitted bodice, and the skirt flared into hemline width. Her shoulder veil of pale blue illusion was held by a bandeau of matching blue iridescent beading, and she carried a white prayer book marked with a white orchid.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

A graduate of the University of Nebraska, where she is a member of Delta Omicron and a former member of the Lincoln Symphony Orchestra, the bride is a member of the Denver Schools faculty. Lt. Putnam is a graduate of Texas A and M College. Stationed as a pilot at the Lincoln Air Force Base, he has been re-assigned to Castle Air Force Base, Merced, Calif.

SUBURBIA

COUNTRY CLUB MANOR

Understand that Dr. and Mrs. Ray Knapp entertained at a family dinner on Tuesday evening. The affair was held at the Knapp home in Country Club Manor and included among the 19 guests were Mrs. Knapp's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Ripley and their two children of Whittier, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Ripley, who plan to return home the first of next week, have been in Lincoln during the holidays visiting at the homes of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Speidell and Mrs. E. S. Ripley, and last Sunday the couple was honored at an open house for which Dr. and Mrs. Knapp were host and hostess to 25 guests.

Greeting the New Year at the E. M. Weaver home last night were the members of Mr. and Mrs. Weaver's card club. The no-host party featured a buffet supper, and an out-of-town guest on hand for the evening was Mrs. P. R. Tracy of Columbus.

COUNTRY CLUB TERRACE

Entertaining at a family dinner this afternoon at their suburban home will be Mr. and Mrs. Richard Huebner and their son, Dickie. Included among the guests will be the couple's parents, Dr. and Mrs. R. W. Tyson of Murray, and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Huebner of Plattsmouth, and also Mr. Huebner's grandfather, W. R. Huebner of Papillion.

Hear that Mr. and Mrs. John Hansen entertained at two family dinners this past week. The first was held at their home on Christmas Day when they had as their guests Mr. Hansen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Hansen, and his brothers, Merle and Loren Hansen, all of Bennington.

Last Sunday, Mrs. Hansen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Kent of Table Rock, and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. David Kent and three children of Burchard, were dinner guests at the Hansen home.

Spending the Christmas week in Calloway were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Savidge and their daughter, Charlene, who visited at the home of Mrs. Savidge's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Wilcher, and Mr. Savidge's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Savidge.

Incidentally, on Saturday, Dec. 28, Charlene celebrated her third birthday at a party given by a group of her cousins in Calloway.

BAERING DOWN ON THE NEWS

We're starting 1958 as clean as a nurse's cap. We admit we still have some pessimists who are afraid everything is going to be all right.

Biggest thing we have to remember the government is not a one-man streetcar. Let's start the bipartisan year right by listening to what the other fellow has to say after we say it.

The Democrats rate a six-mike spokesman on more than a coat-to-coat hookup. It was John Knox of Scotland who demanded a voice in his country's affairs by reason of being born within same.

titled to their day in court. Why

The percentage of political population should average two sprats to a platter.

Sooners Solid Choice Today

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Quarterback Carl Dodd's twisted ankle appeared fully healed Tuesday and the Oklahoma Sooners were solid 10-point favorites to whip Duke's Blue Devils in today's 24th annual Orange Bowl football game.

Injured in Oklahoma's first workout here, Dodd was running at full speed again in a morning practice and Coach Bud Wilkinson pronounced him "in condition to play."

A sellout crowd of 76,000 will see Oklahoma, the nation's No. 4 team, meet Duke, No. 16, in the final game under the Orange Bowl pact with the Big Eight and Atlantic Coast Conferences.

Starting with the next New Year game, the Big Eight will furnish one of the teams but the other will be chosen in the open market.

Today's kickoff is scheduled for 12:45 p.m. (CST). The game will be televised and broadcast nationally by NBC starting at 12:30 p.m.

It never has rained on an Orange Bowl game and the Miami Weather Bureau forecast a continuation of this perfect record. Generally sunny weather with a temperature in the high 70s.

"It'll be a tossup," said Wilkinson after putting his once-beaten Sooners through their final light drill, "although Duke is bigger and stronger than we are."

"The physical advantages are all in Oklahoma's favor—speed and manpower," commented Duke's Coach Bill Murray. "The warm weather will help them, too, with their greater depth."

Wilkinson admitted that "a bright, hot day" would suit him fine. In such weather the swift Oklahoma team, with its rapid play execution, could wear down the opposition in the second half.

Murray doubts that Oklahoma's defeat by Notre Dame after the Sooners had won 47 in a row would have any psychological effect on the Duke players.

"Psychology won't play any decisive part in the thing," he said. "It will be decided on the basic concepts of blocking, tackling and superior manpower. Oklahoma won 47 straight by sticking to basic fundamentals."

The Sooners will be seeking their

Ohio State, Oklahoma, Navy Mississippi Rate As Favorites

By JACK HAND
The Associated Press

America goes on a football binge today with about 380,000 fans filling seven bowls from coast to coast and many more following the action on radio and television.

Ohio State, Navy, Oklahoma and Mississippi are favored in the major bowls that will attract about 85 per cent of the fans. All of these bowls will receive network radio-TV coverage.

The 44th Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif. finds Big Ten champ Ohio State (8-1) a 20-point choice over Oregon (7-3) the Pacific Coast Conference co-champion, but more than 100,000 fans are expected.

Navy (8-1-1) remains a one-point favorite over Rice (7-3), the South-west Conference king, in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas where a sellout crowd of 75,504 is assured. The Middles suffered a tough blow in the injury to Tony Stremic, a valuable blocker and fine middle guard on defense.

The Orange Bowl in Miami counts on 76,100 to watch Oklahoma (9-1), the perennial Big Eight titleholder, face Duke (6-2-2), a 10-point underdog.

At New Orleans' Sugar Bowl,

Mississippi (8-1-1), a fine team with a strong line, is given a three-point edge over Texas (6-3-1) in a game to be seen by 80,000.

Drake (7-1) and Louisville (8-1) collide at El Paso, Tex., before 15,000 in the Sun Bowl, and Texas Southern (7-3) faces Prairie View (6-3) in the Prairie View Bowl at Houston where 13,000 are expected. In the only night game, the Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Fla., presents Mississippi Southern (8-1) and East Texas State (8-1) before 13,000.

Coach Woody Hayes' Ohio State team backs heavily on its "up the middle" power game with fullback Bob White doing the heavy work. Hayes expects at least part time duty from halfback Don Clark, his climax runner. All-America guard Aurelius Thomas helped make the ground game go in eight straight victories since the opening game defeat by Texas Christian.

Jack Crabtree, a quarterback who specializes in the short pass, is the key to the Oregon backfield which packs plenty of speed but no depth. During the regular season, Oregon bowed to Pitt, Washington and Oregon State. The Ducks finished in a tie for the conference title but got the bowl bid because Oregon State was the representative a year ago.

Stremic's injury was a real blow to Navy's hopes against Rice. He was a most important blocker and a leader of the "jitter bug" defense that coach Eddie Erdelatz uses. However, Navy still has quarterback Tom Forrestal to pass and halfback Ned Oldham to run, plus the tricky defense that held the opposition to only 19 points in its last four games. It was the second best defensive team in the nation. Incidentally, 15 of 24 newsmen polled in Dallas picked Navy. Rice has done even better than Navy, holding the enemy to a total of 13 points in its last four games while closing with a rush to win the conference crown. All-America King Hill, the quarterback who was the pros' bonus draft pick, is the man to watch although Coach Jess Neely claims Frank Ryan, his understudy, is just as good. Buddy Dial, an end, is Hill's best passing target in an attack that shows good speed and deception.

Coach Bud Wilkinson, whose Oklahoma Sooners finally were stopped by Notre Dame during the regular season, may try to surprise Duke with some new plays in the Orange Bowl. Quarterback Carl Dodd who has been out with a sprained ankle, is ready to start along with Clendon Thomas, the halfback ace, and All-America guard Bill Krisher.

Closest Battle In Cotton Bowl

DALLAS (AP)—Schools that never have lost a bowl game—Navy and Rice—meet today in the twenty-second Cotton Bowl with the weather expected to be ideal for the clash of two of college football's highest powered offenses.

It's due to be clear and cold—about 40 degrees—when the teams tangle before a sellout 75,504 in the big saucer at 2:30 p.m. (CST). And Navy will enter the game favored by a single point—the shortest odds in the history of the Cotton Bowl.

Navy remained that way the past three days despite the loss of its great blocking guard, Tony Stremic, through injury.

Coach Eddie Erdelatz of Navy said his team should be rated the underdog but coach Jess Neely of Rice said it ought to be the other way since he, too, had lost a guard—Charlie Knight—who went out in an automobile accident a week ago. Knight was a second stringer but played considerable and Neely said he was valuable.

Neely thought it would be an offensive struggle, declaring he expected to see "the ball flying all over the field." He was thus forecasting a mighty aerial duel, something for which both teams are equipped.

A personal duel looms between two of the top quarterbacks in college football—King Hill, the towering All-America from Rice, and Tom Forrestal, clever ball-handler, passer and field general of the midshipmen. But there are stars aplenty on both teams.

In addition to Hill, who had a total offense of 1,244 yards in Rice's 10-game campaign, that saw it win 7 and lose 3, Rice has what Erdelatz calls the best depth at quarterback of any team. Behind Hill is the crafty Frank Ryan, a great passer and runner despite the fact that he has had an injured knee all season. Ray Chilton, Rice fullback, carved out 420 yards the past season in sparking the Owl ground game.

Forrestal's passing was the key to Navy's fine season of 8 victories, 1 loss and 1 tie, but the Tars also boast some powerful runners, such as halfback Hurry Hurst, who gobbled up 584 yards; halfback Ned Oldham, who gained 344, and fullback Ray Wellborn, who made 349.

Teamwise, Navy had the third best offensive record in the nation with 384.4 yards per game rushing and passing and the second top defense, allowing only 161.8 yards per outing.

Rice ranked tenth in the country in total offense with a 347.6 average but the overall defense wasn't impressive—276.9 per game. However, Rice never hit its defensive stride until the November stretch.

Neely let it be known that he would probably use a spread formation and Erdelatz, confident that he would, worked his team long and hard on stopping such a shenanigan.

Rice will be defending a bowl record of four victories—three in the Cotton Bowl and one in the Orange Bowl. Navy has been in two bowl games, tying Washington 14-14 in the 1923 Rose Bowl and beating Mississippi 21-0 in the 1954 Sugar Bowl.

Buckeyes Big Favorite In Rose Bowl

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Hard-hitting Ohio State and speedy, deceptive Oregon meet in the 44th edition of the Tournament of Roses football spectacle today, with the Buckeyes from the Big Ten favored by three touchdowns.

A crowd approaching the capacity of 100,809 for the Rose Bowl is expected, along with clear weather and a fast turf.

The game will be televised country-wide via the National Broadcasting Co., with the kickoff set for 4 p. m. CST.

It promises to be a battle between the giant, Ohio State, loser of only one game and winner of its last eight straight, against the would-be giant-killer, Oregon, co-champions of the Pacific Coast Conference, winner of seven and loser of three contests.

Each team possesses offensive stars in the duel of split-T attacks.

Ohio State's hopes rest with a one-two running threat of Bob White, 212-pound sophomore fullback from Covington, Ky., and junior Don Clark, 191-pound left halfback from Akron.

Oddly enough, neither is slated to start the game. White yields to a senior, Co-capt. Galea Cisco, while Clark, whom coach Woody Hayes calls one of the great backs of the nation, is nursing a groin injury. He will go in at some strategic moment, however.

Cregon will bank on right halfback Jim Shanley, swift 170-pounder and co-captain from North Bend, Ore., and Jack Morris, 191, from Medford, who may well be the fastest fullback in the country.

Ohio State made most of its yardage and 257 points grinding out short gains up the middle. Oregon, under coach Len Casanova, packs speed and passing ability.

The starting lines are about even in weight. The Big Ten champion's reserves are bigger while Oregon's replacement troops are lighter, and Ohio State's depth, if need be, might make the difference.

The Bucks have been quoted at 19 to 21 point favorites, odds which Hayes labels idiotic. For one, the Webfoots lost no game by such a stretch of points.

NEW YORK (AP)—Hank Aaron, batting star of the World Champion Milwaukee Braves, will be honored by the sports lodge of B'nai B'rith for "high principle and achievement in sports in 1957."

The organization said Tuesday Aaron will receive a plaque at its annual awards dinner Jan. 19.

Tug To Miss Game

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, commissioner of the Big 10 conference, is under treatment for a flu-like ailment and probably will miss today's Oregon-Ohio State Rose Bowl game, the UCLA medical center hospital said Tuesday.

BOBBY MORROW

Morrow Is Named Top '57 Athlete

NEW YORK (AP)—Bobby Joe Morrow, the Texas Jackrabbit who sprinted to three gold medals in the 1956 Olympics, Tuesday won the James E. Sullivan Memorial Trophy as the Outstanding Amateur Athlete of 1957.

The 22-year-old student at Abilene Christian College was the first choice on 213 of the 596 ballots cast by a tribunal of sports authorities. On a 5-3-1 point basis, Morrow piled up 1,548 points.

Tom Courtney, former Fordham track star who won Olympic gold medals in the 800-meter run and 1,600-meter relay, was the runner-up with 122 firsts and 1,057 points.

The award is presented annually by the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States to "the athlete who, by performance, example and good influence did most to advance the cause of good sportsmanship during the year." It is named in memory of the founder of the AAU.

Morrow, recent father of twins, equalled the Olympic record for 100 meters by winning in 10.3 seconds and set a record for the 200 meters at 20.6 seconds. He ran the anchor leg on the 400-meter relay team that set an Olympic and world record of :39.5.

A senior at Abilene Christian, Morrow's sportsmanship is unquestioned and he has earned the admiration of all he has competed against.

Morrow tied the world record for 100 yards at 9.3 seconds in the NCAA championships at Austin, Tex., last June. He was a member of the Abilene Christian quarter that broke the 440-yard relay mark at Fresno, Calif., in May.

In addition to his Olympic feats in 1956, runnerup Courtney also did a fine job in 1957. He broke the world 800-yard record and the American 800 and 1,000-meter marks.

Harold Connolly of the Boston AA, the '56 Olympic hammer throw champ and record holder, was third with 78 firsts and 748 points. Then came Tommy Kono of the York, (Pa.) AC, 1952 and 1956 Olympic weightlifting titlist, with 71 firsts and 719 points. He was the only non-Russian to win a world title in the 1957 weight competition.

Glenn Davis, Olympic 400-meter hurdles champ, was fifth with 27 firsts and 353 points, and Sylvia Ruuska, of the Berkeley (Calif.) YMCA, Olympic 400-meter free style swimming bronze medalist, took sixth place with 25 firsts and 238 points.

third straight Orange Bowl victory. They won here in 1954 and 1956, both times over Maryland.

In compiling a 9-1 record during the regular season, Oklahoma scored 285 points to 68 for its opponents. Duke won six, lost two and tied two and outscored the combined opposition 161 to 87.

Ole Miss Seen 3 Points Up On Longhorns

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Mississippi is a three-point favorite to defeat Texas in today's 24th annual Sugar Bowl football game and squelch the rumors that Ole Miss teams aren't at their best when the pressure is on.

To win today has become a crusade for the Mississippians. The team did all its preparing on its home campus at Oxford, a change in routine from that of the previous two trips here when the favored Rebels were upset. Three years ago Navy not only beat Mississippi but shut them out, 21-0.

"I figure it is about time we win down here," said Tad Smith, Ole Miss athletic director who arrived on the Sugar Bowl scene ahead of the team. "The boys are back at home . . . and all they are doing is thinking about winning here on New Year's Day."

The determined Mississippians came to New Orleans late Tuesday by air and hurried through a brief limbering up. Texas won't arrive until just before today's kickoff. The game will be televised nationally (NBC). Weather forecasts say there will be rain during the night but that it will start clearing during the forenoon.

West Virginia Maintains Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

West Virginia, idle since Dec. 21, still tops the nation as the No. 1 basketball team in the Associated Press poll but the list of the first 20 is expected to be shuffled next week.

Nine of the teams were active Monday night and five of them were beaten, four for the first time this season. As the voting for the poll was done over the weekend and based on results through Saturday, the upheaval won't show for another week.

In the poll of 116 sports writers and sportscasters who named 53 different colleges, West Virginia received 48 firsts. On the basis of 10 points for first, nine for second and so on, West Virginia tallied 981 points.

Kansas, which rode to its 10th straight Monday by downing Kansas State 79-65, had 25 firsts and 929 points. Kansas State unbeaten in nine until it ran into Wilt Chamberlain and Co., was third with eight firsts and 774 points. North Carolina, winner of eight of nine, had 13 firsts and 760 points for a close-up fourth.

Fifth-place Cincinnati also lost its perfect record Monday when Bradley beat the Bearcats 79-73. San Francisco, winner of nine of 10, was sixth.

Maryland and Michigan State, the seventh and eighth place teams, both lost for the first time Monday. Memphis State downed Maryland 47-46 in three overtimes for the Sugar Bowl title and Washington upended Michigan State 71-69. Washington was the last stop for State on a successful western swing.

Ninth place Mississippi State, with West Virginia and Kansas the only unbeaten teams remaining among the top 10, was idle Monday. Following Mississippi State came Kentucky, a 75-42 winner over Loyola of Chicago on Monday. Among the second 10 clubs, Bradley may move up from 12th in another week after its victory over Cincinnati, and Temple may better its 13th place standing after its 65-59 decision over California in the Holiday tournament finals at New York.

Giants Sign Pitcher

POINT BLANK

***

By Don Bryant

Sports Editor, The Star

Can't help wishing on this New Year's Morn:

—A happy and fruitful 1958 for everyone.

—A jam-packed City Auditorium Friday and Saturday night for the U.S. National Hockey team series. This is one of the finest sports attractions to come Lincoln's way in many a moon.

—Bill Jennings will come up with an able new assistant (or assistants) who will spark the revitalized freshman program, as well as a swift halfback or two for next fall.

—Al Graves continues to improve with the Nebraska basketball team. The big guy is going to be a solid addition to the Huskers before he's through.

—Monty Basgall will have as much success in Lincoln as Larry Shepard.

—Fellows like Willie Melendez, George Perez, Jack Wilson, Dave Brennan, Reggie Grenald and Bill Onuska will return to the Chiefs next spring.

—Dick Stuart, Don Williams, Joe Gibbon and Bill Bell will make the grade with the Pirates next spring. (It's going to be a rough road for Stu, judging by the Bucs' trade which sent Dee Fondy to the Reds for Ted Klusowski. Pittsburgh wouldn't be dicker for first base help if it was convinced Dick was ready to take over the job.)

—Larry Shepard will make it three pennants in a row by directing Salt Lake City to the Pacific Coast flag. (And if the Stuart-Williams-Gibbon-Bell quartet fails with the Big Bucs, it will wind up in Utah.)

—Bobby Shantz will operate as a Yankee starter again in 1958 and wins 20 games.

—Bob Cerv will shake off the injury jinx and have a big year with Kansas City.

—Frank Sevine's NU track team will push Kansas to the Big Eight wire.

—The Big Eight coaches gang up on Bill Easton's Kansas track club and end the Jayhawk domination.

—Dick Wagner and the Chiefs will draw 150,000 (after a record-advance ticket drive).

—Tony Sharpe's Nebraska baseball team will win the Big Eight crown.

Walter O'Malley will find a place for his Dodgers to play. (Los Angeles, not Milwaukee, has earned the complimentary tag of "bush" for its reception to major league baseball.)

—The Western League will resolve its problems to the benefit of all concerned.

—Major league teams involved in Sunday television won't draw flies. (It's nice that they'll black-out areas in the minors which have Sunday afternoon games. But the fact still remains that TV will have a damaging effect. Many fans will take their nine innings in the afternoon via TV and skip the minor league game at night—to watch TV, of course.)

—That 1958 will be another banner year for sports.

—And, above everything else, that all we have to worry about is whipping the Russians in the 1960 Olympics.

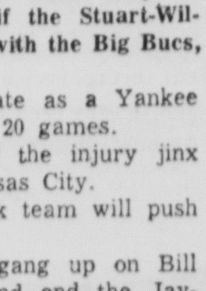

HAPPY NEW YEAR!

To Face National Team

One of the familiar faces on the Central Hockey League All-Star team, which will face the U.S. National team here Friday and Saturday, Jerry Westby of the Minneapolis Bungalows. The rugged young defenseman might also be hoping something happens to one of the members of the National team since the 19-year-old was the last man cut from the roster, and therefore is the first alternate. The National team is on an extended domestic tour before leaving for Europe Feb. 8, a European tour, and the World Championships in Oslo, Norway.

Celtics Stick To Guns In Case Against Russell

BOSTON, (AP)—The National Basketball Assn. champion Celtics stood by their guns Tuesday against charges by St. Louis coach Alex Hannum that Bill Russell, Boston's towering star center, uses illegal maneuvers.

Russell's most outspoken defender has been his boss, Celtics' owner Walter Brown.

Brown told Boston writers at a luncheon that Hannum is "a basketball accident" and a "whiner."

Hannum made his charges last Saturday night after the Hawks defeated the Celtics 112-107, the second loss in their last three starts for the Eastern Division pace setters.

Hannum explained it this way: "Russell takes a high pass with both feet on the floor, then moves both feet in a jumping manner to get near the basket. Then he jumps for his shot or layup. All the while he is not dribbling—that's illegal."

Brown said he was not surprised by Hannum's charges.

"Hannum is strictly a basketball accident," the Boston owner said. "Hannum got the job because Slater Martin (Hawks player) didn't want it."

"As a player Hannum's principal accomplishment was to clobber a guy and I guess he has not improved as a coach."

Russell, one of three Boston players named to the Eastern Division N.B.A. all-star team, and the only unanimous selection, called Hannum's statements "sour grapes."

"I don't see anything illegal about shooting the way I do," the 6-11 former Olympic star said. "I shoot either going up or when I come down. The officials watch me pretty close. They didn't see anything wrong."

Backcourt star Bill Sharman tossed off the incident this way: "Let's just say that St. Louis is becoming a bit more rabid," Sharman said. "Those fans there are being worked up into a frenzy."

Black Remains In Critical Condition

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP)—Don Black, whose major league baseball career was cut short by a freakish injury, was still in critical condition at a hospital here following a weekend highway accident.

Black, 40, who pitched a no-hitter for Cleveland against the then Philadelphia Athletics in 1947, suffered numerous head injuries and cuts in the accident, which occurred near Culpepper, Va., Saturday.

Black's wife and a daughter escaped injury. Another daughter, Margaret, 16, suffered a slight injury.

State police said Black apparently suffered a fainting spell and lost control of the car.

Black, who formerly lived in Salix, Iowa, collapsed in a game late in the 1948 season, suffering a brain injury from a twisted neck.

Hockey Players Hearing Delayed

NEW YORK (AP)—A hearing on one phase of an antitrust suit brought by the National Hockey League Players' Assn. against hockey club operators and others Tuesday was adjourned until Feb. 18.

Federal District Judge Edmund L. Palmieri granted the adjournment upon consent of both sides.

The players' group, seeking 3 million dollars in damages, brought the suit against the NHL, the Madison Square Garden Corp., hockey league clubs and others. The suit accuses the defendants of conspiring to monopolize professional hockey in their areas.

On Dec. 5 the players' association filed a motion for a summary judgment upholding the antitrust charges. It was the hearing on this phase of the suit which was adjourned until February.

All-American City Title To Ohio U.

OWENSBORO, Ky. (AP)—Ohio University took a lead in the first half and controlled the game the rest of the way here Tuesday night, whipping defending champion Kentucky Wesleyan 83-70 in the finals of the Kentucky All-American City basketball tournament.

Southern Illinois turned back Washington and Lee 69-66 for consolation honors in the 5th annual tournament.

Calumet At Hialeah

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Calumet Farm, perennial money leading stable, has some of its best horses in training at Hialeah for the 1958 racing season. The stable is represented by Iron Liege, winner of the Kentucky Derby, Bardstown, Princess Turia, Fabius, Amoret, Rosewood, Beyond, A Glitter and Kentucky Pride.

Nadir, winner of the rich Garden State, also is in training for A. B. Hancock's Clairborne Farm with the Flamingo Stakes as the goal.

Pettit Loses Point Lead To Yardley

NEW YORK (AP)—Bob Pettit, who was eased out of the scoring title last season because of a broken wrist, again has fallen from the lead in the National Basketball Assn. because of injury—plus a whale of a week by Detroit's George Yardley.

Yardley totaled 128 points in four games last week, jumping from second into a 55-point lead over the St. Louis Hawks' ace. Pettit, who suffered a broken finger last week, now has 822 points, including 11 against Minneapolis in his last game, and a 26.5 game average.

Yardley has a total of 877 for a 23.3 average. Both have played 31 games.

Dolph Schayes of Syracuse is third with 784 points and a 24.5 average, with Cincinnati's Clyde Lovellette and Boston's Bill Sharman fourth and fifth. Lovellette has averaged 23.9 a game with a 766 total, Sharman 24.5 on 760. Schayes returned to the lead in free throw accuracy (.902) while Bill Russell of Boston retained his sizeable lead in both field goal shooting (.461) and rebounds (751 for a 24.2 average).

The scoring leaders:

Player, Team	G	Pts.	Avg.
Yardley, Detroit	31	128	26.5
Pettit, St. Louis	31	822	26.5
Schayes, Syracuse	32	784	24.5
Lovellette, Cincinnati	32	768	23.9
Sharman, Boston	31	760	24.5
Tarkan, St. Louis	33	663	20.1
Johnson, Philadelphia	29	616	21.2
Russell, Boston	31	595	19.2

49ers Sign Trio Of College Stars

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco 49ers announced Tuesday three college stars have signed contracts with the national pro football league team.

One of them was Fred Dugan of University of Dayton, an outstanding end on the east squad in last Saturday's East-West Shrine game. He caught 4 passes for 83 yards and one touchdown. Dugan, 6-2, weighing 205 pounds, lives at Stamford, Conn.

Another was Charlie Brueckman, 6 foot 2, 220-pound center and line-backer for University of Pittsburgh, also a member of the East squad in the Shrine game. His home is in Stowe, Penn.

The third was Charles Krueger, 6 foot 4 and 230 pounds, a tackle for Texas A&M.

Southerners Are Tangerine Choice

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Mississippi Southern remained a one touchdown favorite over East Texas State in the Tangerine Bowl football game tonight despite crippling injuries at end.

Two top reserves, Butler Tucker and Nears Marshall, are not expected to play.

East Texas also has a pair of injured players—center Wayne Arnold and tackle Jack Patrick. Both were regulars.

Both teams wound up practice for the game with light drills. Mississippi Southern is making its second straight appearance in the postseason game here. A year ago the Southerners lost to West Texas State 20-13.

East Texas State is here for the third time. The Lions defeated Tennessee Tech 33-0 in 1953 and tied A-Kansas State 7-7 the following year.

Air-Ground Battle Seen In Sun Bowl

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Two clear cut strategies were smoothed off Tuesday as the University of Louisville and Drake University prepared to meet in the 23rd annual Sun Bowl football game.

Louisville plans to concentrate on a ground attack built around the talents of halfback Leonard Lyles, billed as "the fastest man in football."

Drake's strategy centers on the passing of southpaw Roger La Brasca, whose best receiver is end Jerry Mertens.

The Louisville Cardinals are listed as a slight favorite in the game, which starts at 3:30 p.m. (CST) before an expected crowd of 15,000.

This prediction is based on the capability of Lyles and a heavier team in general than that of Drake's Bulldogs. However, the Bulldogs have a team with more experience and are deep in reserves.

Both teams held only light drills Tuesday after hitting the practice field heavily from the time of their arrival in El Paso late last week.

The Cardinals, in late drills, worked particularly on their pass defense.

Drake, on the other hand, polished up its ground defense in hopes of stopping Lyles.

Prairie View Is Liked By Touchdown

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Prairie View A&M is a touchdown favorite today to defeat Texas Southern University today in the 30th annual Prairie View Bowl game.

A crowd of about 20,000 is expected at Public School Stadium to see the two Negro college teams meet a second time this season.

Prairie View defeated the Houston team, 7-6, during a heavy rain earlier in the season. The rain at the Cotton Bowl in Dallas prevented Prairie View from taking full advantage of its razzle-dazzle offense and permitted Texas Southern only limited use of its strong passing attack.

Florida Cops Gator Title

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Joe Hobbs hit with unerring accuracy from outside and staged a Globe-trotter-style dribbling stall in the final minutes in leading Florida to a 76-63 victory over Georgia and the championship of the Gator Bowl basketball tournament Tuesday night.

Clemson played racehorse ball and upset favored South Carolina 85-65 in a battle for third place. Vince Yockel, who led the Clemson fast break, tallied 26 points.

Hobbs' long shots pulverized Georgia's defense and opened the way for Jerry Henderson, Dick Hoban and Charlie Pike to join him in doublefiguring scoring.

Then Hoban scored a layup that put Florida ahead 15-13 and the Gators led the rest of the way.

For the first time this season Florida found capable reserve strength with soph Bobby Sherwood filling in for Jim Zinn most of the second half after Zinn made his fourth foul.

Hobbs, aided by Pike, began a dribbling stall with four minutes to play. The expert ball handling of the Gator captain from Sheridan, Ind., delighted the crowd of about 2,100.

Texas Names 3 To Hall Of Fame

DALLAS, (AP)—Jimmie Demaret, the golf great; Wilmer Allison, famed tennis player of a quarter of a century ago, and L. R. (Dutch) Meyer, noted football coach of Texas Christian, were inducted into the Texas sports Hall of Fame Tuesday.

They were voted this honor by the Texas Sports Writers Association for their contributions "of fame and honor" to Texas.

A telegram from Bing Crosby said Demaret, the laughing man of the links, "made more friends for golf than any player who ever lived."

Ben Hogan, another Texan known for golf greatness and already a member of the Hall of Fame himself, presented a plaque to Demaret and said "he is one of the finest golfers I ever saw in my life—he can beat you easier and happier than anybody."

Plasman Named To Steeler Post

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Dick Plasman, a former professional football player and coach, was signed as a line coach by the Pittsburgh Steelers Tuesday to replace Nick Skorich, who resigned last Monday.

Plasman played for Vanderbilt, the Chicago Bears and Chicago Cardinals and held assistant coaching posts with the Cards and Green Bay Packers.

For the past five years, Plasman has been in business in Coral Gables, Fla. Last Saturday he scouted the Gator Bowl for the Steelers and is scheduled to scout the Orange Bowl today.

BIG STATE LEAGUE READY TO FOLD UP

ABILENE, Tex. (AP)—Barring unforeseen developments, the 11-year-old Class B Big State Baseball League will suspend operations Jan. 18, league president Hal Sayles announced Tuesday.

Sayles' announcement followed by one day, action of the Texas League in admitting Victoria to the Class AA circuit.

Victoria, a member of the Big State loop for the past two years, was the league's strongest franchise financially and a key club in the plans for the 1958 season, Sayles said.

"With the loss of Victoria," Sayles said, "We now have only three sure starters for next season and a couple of probables."

The clubs ready to start the 1958 Big State League season were Beaumont, a member last year, and two members of the defunct Southwestern League, Carlisbad and Hobbs, N. M. The Southwestern and Big State Leagues merged last fall.

"While Victoria's advancement means almost sure death of our circuit," Sayles said, "we are preparing to clear the way for that city's release from the Big State."

He said a meeting is set tentatively for Jan. 18 to take a final look at the baseball picture and added that the outlook is pretty gloomy.

Two years ago the Big State led all other Class B leagues in professional baseball with a total attendance of 503,052. Last year, however, the league got off to a bad start with a record number of rain-outs at the start of the season.

It lost the Wichita Falls franchise after a month of play and wound up the campaign as a four club loop—Victoria, the pennant winner, Corpus Christi, Abilene and Beaumont.

Abilene dropped out at the close of the season when its park was dismantled to clear the way for a new shopping center. Corpus Christi's franchise was returned to the league earlier this month when owner Bob Hamric announced he could not continue to operate at the Class B level.

Hopman Discounts Pro-Rose Reports

MELBOURNE (Wednesday) (AP)—Non-playing Australian Davis Cup captain Harry Hopman discounted reports that Mervyn Rose will turn professional.

Writing in the Melbourne Sun, Hopman predicted that Rose will pair with Mal Anderson, his Davis Cup doubles partner, for the major international tournaments in 1958.

"They will bid this month for the Australian doubles title in Sydney," Hopman declared.

"Rose also plans another private tour," he said, "He was away for eight months last year and two months of 1956."

"If he receives permission from the Lawn Tennis Assn. of Australia to tour privately this year, a time limit of six months is certain to be imposed," Hopman wrote.

Hopman added that although Rose is now regarded as a doubles player "I consider his present fitness and form to make him a strong threat to take the Australian singles title which he last won in 1954."

Tennessee's Anderson Is Reported Signed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bill Anderson, University of Tennessee star halfback, was reported Tuesday night to have signed with the Washington Redskins pro football team.

A spokesman for the Redskins said a representative of the team was understood to have closed the contract with Anderson after the Tennessee-Texas A&M "Gator Bowl" game in Jacksonville, Fla. Anderson is a senior.

However, the spokesman said the contract had not yet been received here. He said the Redskins wanted Anderson because he was versatile enough to play well either as a back or end.

Tupelo Jr. High Provided Mississippi State Coach

STATE COLLEGE, Miss. (AP)—A man who never played college basketball or coached it until three years ago now pilots the nation's ninth-ranked college team, the unbeaten Mississippi State Maroons.

The man is James "Babe" McCarthy, who four years ago was tutoring junior high school cagers in the little city of Tupelo, Miss., 70 miles to the north of Mississippi State.

Last season, McCarthy's second in college ranks, the Maroons ranked 15th in the nation and McCarthy was named coach of the year by the Southeastern Conference.

To multiply the unexpected, McCarthy—who was supposed to be rebuilding this season after losing an All-American guard and two other starters—now has his team a year ahead of schedule.

He is doing the job with contrast: a deep-freeze type strategy coupled with the nation's fifth-ranked scorer, center Bailey Howell.

But, his value to the team doesn't rest solely with scoring. Howell is fourth in the nation in rebounds, having grabbed off 139 of them for a 23.7 average. Last season, he was sixth.

Adolph Rupp of Kentucky, who knows a basketball player when he sees one, said of Howell last year: "He's as good a center as there is in the country."

Cliff Wells of Tulane tabbed him "the standout player in the south." Still, good as he is, Howell couldn't be expected by himself to carry a team to the nation's ninth spot as the new year dawns.

For his starting forwards, McCarthy chose Charles Hull, a sophomore, and Dale Fisher, a junior college transfer. At the guards, he called on Jerry Keeton, a junior defensive whiz, and Shellee Bailey, the team's lone first string senior.

None of the four has averaged as much as 10 points a game offensively, but with Howell leading the offense and grabbing a big share of the rebounds, they don't have to break scoring records.

They miss James "Babe" McCarthy in Tupelo, Miss., junior high school circles. Some colleges wish they didn't.

Armed Forces Star Retire Lowe Colt

MIAMI, Fla. (INS)—Gallant Man, one of racing's top three-year-olds in 1957, was reported Tuesday responding "remarkably well" to treatment for an infected forefoot.

Trainer Johnny Nerud denied rumors that the Ralph Lowe colt, winner of the Belmont Stakes last summer, might be retired.

Nerud said at Hialeah, where the colt is stabled:

"A little dirt or something worked up under the outside edge of his left foot. When we brought him to Hialeah and eased up on his training, this brought the aggravation to a head."

Nerud has cut away the small infected area of the hoof—a spot about the size of a dime—and is applying flaxseed poultices to draw out the infection. He said that Gallant Man is standing comfortably on the foot for the first time since his lameness was noticed last Saturday.

Pace Honored By Fans In Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—This city's Negro community welcomed home its man of the hour with a parade and a banquet.

Jim Pace, All America halfback from the University of Michigan, was met at municipal airport by several hundred fans and the Horace Mann (Negro) High School band.

It was Pace's first visit to his home town since he was named to the Associated Press' All America team last month. He was delayed by a trip to San Francisco where he played in the East-West all star game Saturday.

L. M. Christophe, principal of Mann High, presented Pace with a wrist watch, bought with contributions from the student body, and a plaque from the school. Then Pace was hustled into a convertible to lead a 100-car parade down main street. His mother, Mrs. Ethel Sullivan, rode proudly beside him.

"I thought a lot about what I was going to say," Pace told the crowd, "but all I can remember is to thank you. I'm deeply touched, and it's a real thrill."

An auto agency presented Pace with the keys to a new car to drive during the few days he will be in Little Rock before returning to Michigan.

Two former high school teammates, now Big Ten conference stars in their own right, were Pace's guests at the banquet. They were Willie Smith, a Michigan lineman, and Sidney Williams, a back for the University of Wisconsin.

Pace, who was named the Big Ten's outstanding player this past season, said he was undecided about whether to turn pro after he is graduated next summer. He was the No. 1 draft choice of the San Francisco 49ers of the National Football League.

Knicks Set Scoring Mark In 142-116 Rout

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Knickerbockers set a team scoring record Tuesday night when they whipped the Minneapolis Lakers, 142-116 in a National Basketball Assn. game in Madison Square Garden.

The Knicks' previous high was 123 points which they set against the St. Louis Hawks on the same garden floor last year. Guy Sparrow with 23 points and Willie Naulls with 22 led the Knicks.

DES MOINES (AP)—The Missouri Basin inter-agency committee in its first 1958 meeting will be briefed on provisions of the new federal budget which will have a bearing on the immediate course of basin activities.

Money Awaits Right Party!

FALLS CITY, Neb. (AP)—Paul C. Krause of Reynolds, Neb., has some money he wants to return to a Richardson County resident. In fact, he's had the matter on his mind for about 12 years.

Krause wrote the Falls City Journal:

"Some 11 or 12 years ago, a car stopped here around New Year's. It was snowing and blowing. The party lost his pocketbook with money in it. After the snow had stopped blowing the next day, I scooped off the snow in the street and about a month or so later the party stopped and asked if I found a pocketbook. I hadn't. But later I found it in the mud where the snow was piled up.

"I don't know the man. I didn't learn his name, only he had a 19 county license plate. I figured he would come again and stop, but he didn't.

Krause said the man will have to identify the billfold and describe how much money he had.

Assessors May 'Snub' Terry's Tax Study Meet

OMAHA (AP)—Some county assessors have indicated they will "snub" Sen. Terry Carpenter's legislative tax study committee, which has asked for a meeting with them here Jan. 21, Douglas County Assessor Joe Stolinski said Tuesday.

Stolinski confirmed rumors that a snub was being considered, and said some assessors have reported they won't attend the meeting which is scheduled a day before the annual convention of the Nebraska County Assessors Assn.

Stolinski said he would appear "to gain what benefit I can from the meeting with the committee," and some other assessors had said they also planned to attend the meeting.

Assessors have been chafing under criticism by Carpenter, who declared the time has come to remove one or two county assessors to show that the state "means business."

Snow Belt Moves Eastward

Snow is forecast for New Year's Day for northern New England, New York state and central and western Pennsylvania, eastern Great Lakes and the Dakotas. Rain is expected in New Jersey, southeastern parts of Pennsylvania and New York state and over a coastal area from Maryland through northern North Carolina. Rain will change to snow in southern New England before ending. (AP Wire-photo Map)

Delinquent Tax Drive Planned

OMAHA (AP)—City officials have launched a drive to get full collection of city occupation and license taxes.

City Safety Director Lynn Carey said that there are five categories in the occupation list where there are delinquencies. He said these are music boxes, chattel loans, express companies, coin-operated machines and vending machines. Omaha has 32 occupation tax categories.

There are 22 license or permit categories and Carey said there are delinquencies in the coin-operated amusement machine, pawnbrokers and soft drink machine categories.

Industrial Site Eyed For McCook

McCOOK, Neb. (AP)—The Burlington Railroad and the McCook Chamber of Commerce have arrived at agreement on a possible industrial site southeast of McCook.

The chamber's industrial committee proposes leasing the land from the railroad.

The agreement is based on the possibility of putting the area on a lower tax basis. That would be up to the board of school District 17 on which the land is located.

Rev. Hosman Dies; Founded Goodwill Industries Here

OMAHA (INS)—Funeral services will be held in Omaha for the Rev. E. E. Hosman, 94, founder of the Nebraska Goodwill Industries, who died at the home of a daughter in Santa Ana, Calif.

Dr. Hosman founded the Goodwill Industries in 1933 after retiring from the Methodist ministry and headed it until 1953.

He served as a Methodist circuit rider for several Nebraska churches before and after the turn of the century.

Snow Aids Police To Solve Break-In

OMAHA (AP)—Overnight snow helped police to a quick solution of a filling station break-in Tuesday. Officers saw tracks leading from a broken window in the station to a nearby home.

There they arrested 23-year-old Samuel Watkins and recovered merchandise they said was taken from the station. Watkins was booked for investigation.

January is Tag Month at WALKER-ADAMS SAVINGS OF MORE THAN 1/3 ON QUALITY MEN'S CLOTHING

If we were to carry over inventories from one year to the next, as in normal retail stores, the cost would be too great to permit Walker-Adams' regular low prices... the investment cost, the inventory control cost, the space requirements would all combine to increase our costs of doing business.

But Walker-Adams cuts costs to the bone. The calculated loss we take now, is your gain today... as well as next month.

Every day is a sale day at Walker-Adams. But through the month of January, we are operating at a calculated loss, in order to maintain our rapid turnover... and in order to clear our salesrooms for Spring suits already in production.

Our racks Must Be Emptied this Month

We have shipped every garment from the factories to our showrooms. We have re-tagged every suit, every outercoat... with new, low prices that are fantastic even for Walker-Adams. Everything must be cleared out by the end of this month... because it costs more to keep this merchandise in our inventories.

So come to Walker-Adams now, during our January Parade of Values, for the greatest collection of men's clothing values ever assembled. Come in today, while selections are large.

Gaither Report Suppression Irks Demos

CAUCUS IS CALLED BY JOHNSON

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON (INS)—Disturbed by administration suppression of the dynamite-laden Gaither Report, Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson is secretly calling a caucus of all Senate Democrats Jan. 7 to disclose the findings of his preparedness subcommittee.

Sen. Johnson

Johnson will be assisted during the briefing session by Democratic members of his armed services subcommittee including Sens. Symington (Mo.), Kefauver (Tenn.) and Stennis (Miss).

So zealously has President Eisenhower guarded the contents of the explosive Gaither document, which reportedly finds us in the greatest peril of our history, that Johnson and his investigating committee have been unable to secure a copy.

Symington Makes Demand
Symington, a former secretary of the Air Force, has taken the forefront in demanding that the American people have a right to know everything in the report that does not help a potential enemy.

"Warfare has probably changed more in the last 10 years than in the previous 1,000 years," Symington told this correspondent. "In recent months, since the Russians successfully tested an intercontinental missile, we have lost our two greatest allies: Time to mobilize and our two-ocean defenses."

Other Important Matters
Symington said it is vitally important for us "to chase the Russians in the missile race," but it is equally important to look to our forces-in-being, the education of our youth for science, and a reorganization of the Pentagon.

"The Strategic Air Command, which Eisenhower has called our greatest deterrent to war, was grounded last spring for lack of gasoline," Symington declared.

"Further, sworn testimony by military and civilian leaders before our subcommittee proves that the Army, Navy and Air Force are inadequate for meeting the current danger."

The Missouri senator quoted an airlines executive as saying that if his airline had the same number of unskilled workers as the SAC, he would not permit a plane to leave the ground.

Hickenlooper Disagrees
Taking the opposite tack, GOP Sen. Hickenlooper (Iowa) charged that there is "an undue amount of agitation and publicity which is harming our defense effort."

He said the new Congress will have a tremendous responsibility in an election year to make a calm and objective appraisal of our defense posture, without yielding to political temptations.

Hickenlooper, the ranking Republican member of the Joint Atomic Energy Committee, said there is "no question but that our overall strength and military posture are ahead of the Russians."

Brownville Rites For Mrs. Wilson

Funeral services and burial for Mrs. Estella Delphina Wilson, 80, who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mildred McClary, of 150 E. were held in Brownville.

The Rev. Ward Merritt officiated. Mrs. Wilson, who died Saturday, had lived in Lincoln 10 years.

She and her husband came to Tecumseh from Illinois in 1907 and they later moved to a fruit orchard at Brownville in 1917.

Surviving beside her daughter are a son, Kenneth B. of Nemaha; four grandchildren, and seven great-grandchildren.

Stocks Have A Fast Rally

NEW YORK (AP)—The Stock Market rang out the old year Tuesday with a fast and furious rally that swept all major categories into higher ground.

Gains of $1 to $2 a share peppered the list. Trading hit a slambang pace from the opening gong on. The New York Stock Exchange ticker was eight minutes late at the closing after running behind transactions for the better part of the day.

The heavy volume—5,070,000 shares—was chiefly due to an avalanche of sell orders from brokers and investors seeking to establish 1957 tax losses before the year-end deadline. There were enough willing buyers around to absorb the deluge and stiffen the market's tone.

The Associated Press 60-stock average closed out the year at $154.70, up $1.10 on the day. On New Year's Eve a year ago it was $181.50. The Dow Jones industrial average closed at 435.66, up 3.88.

Of the 1252 issues traded Tuesday, 761 went up and 299 down. Only 16 scored new 1957 highs against 65 new lows.

The advance extended to the air-crafts, motors, steels, non-ferrous metals, rubbers, chemicals, rails and oils.

C. L. Casale, 77, Funeral Thursday

The funeral of Constantino L. (Chris) Casale, 77, of 1845 So. 47th, who died Tuesday, will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday at Hodgman-Spaulin.

The Rev. E. Mehlhoff will officiate. Burial will be in Lincoln Memorial Park.

Born in Illinois, he had lived in Lincoln for 65 years. He was a charter member of Local 151, International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees.

Surviving are his wife, Minnie; daughters, Mrs. Bernice Mares and Mrs. Lorraine Curtis, both of Lincoln; brothers, George and Nick of Lincoln and two nephews.

Subway Tieup Is Averted

... N.Y. Threat Ends

NEW YORK (AP)—A threat of a new year subway and bus strike that would have hit millions of commuters ended Tuesday with agreement on higher wages.

Michael J. Quill, president of the Transport Workers Union, and the Transit Authority announced agreement on a two-year pact providing a 32½ cents an hour package wage increase for 32,700 employees of city-owned subway and bus lines.

The package includes a 25-cent-an-hour actual wage increase spread over the two years. Present subway wages range from $1.79½ to $2.37 an hour. The prevailing wage on city-owned buses is $2.13 an hour.

A tentative agreement was reached also to cover nine privately-owned bus lines, including one in suburban Westchester County.

This agreement called for package wage increases ranging from 18 to 24 cents an hour over a two-year period for 8,200 workers. Wages on the private lines range from $2.06½ to $2.14 an hour.

The pacts are subject to ratification by union members.

The Transit Authority said there would be no increase in the 15-cent subway fare—at least this year—to meet the increased costs.

Theodore Loos, president of the Motormen's Benevolent Assn. termed the subway agreement a farce. He said the MBA would institute legal action against it.

"It's not nearly sufficient to take care of substandard wages in the subways," Loos said.

Earlier this month, the MBA waged an eight-day strike in an effort to win recognition as bargaining agent for the motormen. The motormen, like all subway employees, are represented by the TWU.

U.S. Begins New Year With Population Of 173 Million

... And More Than Half Are Women

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States rings in the new year with an estimated population of nearly 173 million. And more than half of those millions are women.

The Census Bureau said the New Year's Day population estimate of 172,800,000 compares with 169,800,000 a year ago. To achieve this year-to-year gain of three million, it figured the population showed a net increase of about 8,200 in every day of 1957.

Women were estimated to outnumber men in this country by 1½ million at mid-year, the bureau said. And it indicated this ratio still holds.

Israel Seeks New Cabinet

Party Heads Meet With President

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israeli President Izhak Ben-Zvi Tuesday sought a replacement for the government of David Ben-Gurion which resigned in a row with leftists over national security.

He summoned the leaders of 10 parties in the Knesset (Parliament) for talks before asking one of them to form a new government. First on the list for talks was Ben-Gurion's Mapai Socialist Party and it was expected Ben-Zvi would ask the former premier to have another go at it.

Ben-Gurion and his cabinet will stay on as the caretaker government.

Ben-Gurion told the president he broke up his government because he could give no guarantee the "deplorable acts" of two leftist Achduth Avodah (Labor) Party ministers would not be repeated.

He was referring to the alleged leak by the two ministers of information about a secret cabinet decision to send a mission to West Germany to buy "certain equipment vital to the defense of Israel."

Some Statistics

In its own special greeting to 1958, the Census Bureau demonstrated its attachment to figures by coming up with a parcel of miscellaneous statistics that add up to one big fact: The country is growing.

On the subject of the 1957 population gain, for instance, it said there was a birth every 7½ seconds during the year, a death every 20 seconds, an immigrant arriving every 2 minutes and an emigrant leaving every 20 minutes.

If you juggle these average figures long enough, you find that the population scored a net gain of one every 11 seconds.

1.2 Million Retired

The bureau also estimated that 3,400 Americans reached the normal retirement age of 65 on the average day this year. The total for the year was 1,200,000.

About 6,000 Americans reached the voting age of 21 on the average day and 10,000 celebrated their sixth birthdays—the customary age for starting school.

And here are some figures you might want to fix in your mind if you hope to get on a television quiz program during the new year:

There were 50 million households in the United States in 1957, 12,700,000 wives held jobs outside the home, 41,200,000 Americans were going to school and 7,500,000 held college degrees.

4 To 5 Days Before Skating Ponds Ready

No ice skating for Lincoln, except at Pershing Municipal Auditorium, is in sight for at least four or five days.

Park Supt. Jim Ager said "four or five days of freezing temperatures" would be needed to form skating ice at Woods Park (33rd and O), Sawyer-Snell and Lake Street.

Oak Lake normally requires about a week of zero temperatures for skating ice, according to Ager.

Noting there was water-skating on Oak Lake on Christmas Day, Ager said: "We ought to be getting some ice weather before too long."

The park superintendent said no attempt would be made to flood the tennis court "ponds" for skating "until we can be sure this cold weather will hold."

With proper weather, only two days are required to turn the tennis courts into skating ponds.

Pete The Python Startles Officials; Now It's Patricia

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Pete the python, who won fame in 1954 when it escaped from the Fort Worth Zoo, startled the city again Tuesday.

To the amazement of all, "Pete" gave birth to about 50 gigantic white eggs, and set off a scramble for a new name. At the moment Patricia is favored.

Most amazed of all was Harry Jackson, owner of the python. "I walked in there this morning, looked in old Pete's cage and there were all those eggs," said Jackson. "I just can't get used to calling him a her."

"Pete" escaped in September of 1954, and was free for 15 days before she was found not far from her cage.

Jackson said the eggs probably are infertile. Another python shares "Pete's" cage, but Jackson said he doubted it was the papa. "Besides, I don't know what sex it is either. After what's happened to Pete, I wouldn't guess."

Proposal Made To Hike Wheat Flour In Bread

...Plan Aimed To Boost Grain Consumption

BEATRICE, Neb. (U-P)—A law requiring bakers to use more wheat flour in bread has been proposed by a Farmers Union group as a means of boosting the per capita consumption of wheat.

Demo Majority Increase Seen By Rep. Miller

... '58 Predictions

WASHINGTON (U-P)—Rep. Miller (R-Neb) predicted Wednesday that the Democratic majority in Congress will be increased "due to Sputnik, Benson and Little Rock."

This prediction was No. 8 in Miller's annual list of predictions for the new year, an annual custom of the dean of the Nebraska Congressional delegation.

Miller's 12 predictions for the world scene in 1958 are:

"1. No world wide war. Russia and the United States respect each other's tremendous potential and destructive power. Some unrest around the world may result in little wars with Israel, Turkey and the Arabs involved.

"2. Summit meeting of major powers.

Hike In Budget

"3. No new federal taxes. Budget upped for increased defense spending. Close race for balanced budget.

"4. Missiles galore during 1958. Vast expansion in entire field of science.

"5. Revision of Taft-Hartley labor laws. Racket hearings brought to light much that is bad. Bills to insure honest instead of rigged union elections; protection of trust funds; larger unions may be placed under anti-trust and anti-monopoly laws; action toward outlawing secondary boycotts and sympathy strikes; possible action on right to work law at national level. I have always maintained no man should be denied a job simply because he does not belong to my lodge.

Statehood For Alaska

"6. Alaska the 49th state; Hawaii doubtful.

"7. Increased wages for federal workers, top scientists getting best break.

"8. Public will be sufficiently aroused over education that some changes will be made, notably in making science and mathematics course a "must" for graduation. Many schools now list these as elective courses.

"9. Democratic majority in Congress upped due to Sputnik, Benson and Little Rock.

"10. Unemployment may reach 5 to 6 million by July 1. Slight recession until September 1, followed by inflationary trend.

"11. No new welfare or public spending programs. Spending for irrigation, flood control and public buildings may be out the window.

"12. Ike will have to slow down still more. Congress will pass legislation outlining when president is incapacitated."

Comprehensive Exams OK'd For Midland Seniors

FREMONT, Neb.—Midland College seniors, at their own request, will take comprehensive examinations in their major areas of work for the first time this spring.

Dr. William F. Zimmerman, college dean, pointed out that this year's graduates will only be tested on course work taken in their final year of college. Next year's seniors will be tested over two years work, and by the spring of 1961 the six-hour written and oral examinations will include all major course work taken during a four year college career.

Sees Helpfulness

Dean Zimmerman emphasized that the comprehensive, which are in general practice among superior colleges throughout the United States, will be helpful both to the college and to the students.

"The tests will be an incentive to quality teaching and improvement in learning," he stated. "It will be necessary for the student to bring together into an integrated and intelligible whole the knowledge acquired in his major field."

"These examinations are designed to test the student's understanding of general principles as well as his possession of facts to help him develop maturity of thought and independence of judgement," Dr. Zimmerman added.

Endorsed By Faculty

There had been previous talk at Midland about the adoption of such a program, but this fall a senior committee formally asked the faculty to give consideration to the project. A 50-member committee headed by Prof. Herman Gimmesdahl thought well of the idea, and, through the curriculum and policies committee, presented the idea at the December faculty meeting. The faculty heartily endorsed the proposal.

For the first year, the tests will include a three-hour written exam prepared by the chairman of the department and administered by the dean of the college during the week of April 7-11. A one hour oral exam will be administered by the department chairman assisted by other faculty members.

State Sen. Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth, presented a resolution to Leslie F. Sheffield, chairman of the Wheat Development Commission, calling for the provision.

The resolution was signed by Paul H. Zimmerman, De Witt, member of the Blue Valley Farmers Union Local 802, which initiated discussions of the proposal; Floyd Herman of Wilber, Saline County Farmers Union Legislative Committeeman; Louis Wiebe of Filley, fourth district director; Jiggs Coulter of Beatrice, who formerly was in the baking industry; and Ruhnke, who also is vice president of the Farmers Union Fourth District organization.

Sample Loaf Baked

Sheffield commented that the per capita consumption of wheat flour has dropped from 160 pounds per year to 120 pounds per year in the last 20 years. He and Ruhnke witnessed the baking of a sample of the proposed loaf at a Beatrice bakery.

Nebraska News

The resolution said: "Due to the ever declining per capita consumption of wheat flour which we believe is in a large part due to the present type of commercial bread sold to the consumers, there is an ever increasing surplus of wheat which has become a grave national problem. We believe that by regulating the weight and size of a loaf of bread in accordance with the resolution it would be possible to increase the per capita consumption of wheat flour by as much as 55 per cent.

"Recognizing this, be it resolved that it be unlawful to sell, expose for sale or serve in a public eating place any bread made of wheat or rye flour that does not have at least one ounce of baked bread to seven cubic inches of total displacement."

Blair Builder To Head Dana College Drive

BLAIR, Neb. — Simon Korshoj, owner of the Korshoj Construction Company, Inc., of Blair, will serve as chairman for the Blair division campaign of the Dana College development program.

Dr. C. C. Madsen, Dana president, has announced. Korshoj is a former student of Dana.

The Blair campaign will be part of a nationwide campaign for funds now being conducted to finance expansion at Dana. The money will be used to finance construction of new buildings, renovation and remodeling of campus facilities, and a long-range plan for continuing improvement of the academic program at Dana.

"We are pleased to have Mr. Korshoj as chairman of the Blair Division," Dr. Madsen said. "He is a proven friend of the college and he has repeatedly demonstrated his ability and leadership in projects for the betterment of the community. His service will help assure realization of the Greater Dana we have planned."

Korshoj is a past president of the Associated General Contractors of Nebraska, Inc. He has served for the past several months as an advisory member of the Dana development committee and is chairman of the Blair Rotary Club committee that has aided Dana in its expansion plans.

African-Asian Meet Delegates Single Out U.S., Britain, France As Villains

CAIRO (AP)—Delegates to Cairo's African-Asian conference singled out the United States, Britain and France as the villains Tuesday in repeated denunciations of "imperialism."

A delegate from Outer Mongolia, virtually a Soviet colony, denounced Western colonialism.

One demand, by a Moroccan delegate not recognized by his government, was for withdrawal of the United States from its bases in North Africa.

The conference's anti-Western, extreme Nationalist coloration, contrasted with a marked tolerance for the Soviet Union, was emphasized more than ever at a full dress session. Committees have been occupying the more than 400 delegates from 42 nations and colonies, who assembled last Thursday and will end the conference Wednesday.

Champion

As delegate after delegate denounced the West, a Soviet government official proclaimed his country a "tireless champion of peace and an irreconcilable enemy of imperialism and colonialism."

The Soviet spokesman was Shafat R. Rashidov, a vice president of the Soviet Parliament's Presidium. Although the delegates do not officially represent their countries and some are frowned upon by their governments, the Soviet delegates have spoken authoritatively in offering economic aid to all African and Asian countries.

Rashidov declared the United States seeks to enslave underdeveloped countries under the guise of offering them aid.

Rashidov said the Eisenhower Middle East doctrine was devised to hinder progress of underdeveloped countries and "to draw them into aggressive blocs and make them give up their peaceful foreign policy." The Soviet Union, he said, attaches no strings to its aid.

The Algerian rebellion figured largely in the remarks of many delegates.

'A Bridge'

A Moroccan said his country should not be used as "a bridge for imperialists to jump on our Algerian brothers." He said France had given the United States bases in Morocco, and "we demand complete withdrawal of all foreign troops from our land for the sake of world peace."

Also asserting support for the Algerian rebels, a Nigerian said imperialists are trying to "throw a wedge between the peoples of Asia and Africa."

The British were denounced by delegates from Oman, British Somaliland and Uganda.

Rebellion

The Omani accused the British of killing women and children, robbing houses and destroying buildings in his little country on the Arabian peninsula. Britain supported the Sultan of Oman in putting down a rebellion a few months ago, but claimed its bombing planes attacked only after giving ample warning to villagers.

The Somali said the British are keeping the colony in a backward state and depriving the people of education. "The savage crimes committed by the British would make you tremble," he declared.

Before adjourning the conference is expected to approve a number of resolutions. The Political Committee already has approved one demanding that Western "imperialists" get out of the Middle and Far East.

Alfred P. Griffin Services Friday

The funeral of Alfred P. Griffin, 35, of 4030 Lewis, who died Tuesday, will be 9 a.m. Friday, at St. Mary's Cathedral.

The Rev. John Flynn will officiate. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery.

A resident of Lincoln for 23 years, Mr. Griffin was a mechanic for the O'Shea Rogers Motor Co. He was born in David City.

Surviving him are his wife, Lorraine; two sons, Robert Allen and Mark Steven; and one step-son, Daniel, all of Lincoln; three sisters, Mrs. Margaret Styer and Mrs. Ellis Hejl, both of Rangely, Colo., and Miss Genevieve Griffin of Lincoln and one brother, Harold J. of Lincoln.

Mayor's Wish For New Year: Street Improvement Action

Mayor Bennett S. Martin took time from his own New Year's resolution-making to wish the city of Lincoln would resolve to make real progress in improving the city's streets in 1958.

Other resolutions by Lincolinites cover a great variety of problems, hopes and projects.

Resolutions for the year 1958:

Mayor Bennett S. Martin: "I hope Lincoln's resolution for 1958 will be to make real progress on improving the city's streets and arterials. I would like to see as much accomplished for a road program during this year as was done on the sanitary sewer program in 1957."

State Highway Patrol, Col. C. J. Sanders: "We are going to do as we have done in the past. We are going to do everything possible to have traffic control men where we need them at the time we need them in order to prevent as many accidents as we can."

Col. Sanders also offered a resolution all drivers should make their own: "Drivers should remember they have a full time responsibility in looking out for themselves and their fellow drivers."

Lincoln Council of Churches, the Rev. Carroll H. Lemon: "We would like to see improved opportunities for the Negro population in view of the tensions in Little Rock, Ark., and the South. Also we would like additional churches to become members of the Lincoln Council of Churches."

President of Nebraska Wesleyan University Dr. Vance Rogers: "In the academic field we hope to continue to improve the quality of the educational process so our students will be better able to meet the needs of the 20th century. We hope to see progress made on the Campus Center building so it will be open by the end of 1958."

Chamber of Commerce President Harold Hoppe: "The Chamber resolves to serve Lincoln better in 1958. The directors, staff and officers know 1958 will be a prosperous and happy year for the people of Lincoln."

Psychiatrist Interviews Immenschuh

Lincoln psychiatrist Dr. Robert J. Stein talked with murder suspect Philmon Immenschuh at Police Headquarters for one hour Tuesday afternoon.

But County Attorney Elmer Scheele declined to discuss what if any conclusions Stein reached in his talk with the man who reportedly has signed a statement admitting the shotgun slaying Dec. 1 of Lincoln service station attendant Robert Colvert.

Scheele said he hoped to have a definite statement on Immenschuh's case by the end of the week.

Scheele has not talked with Immenschuh since Saturday. The county attorney said he probably will talk with Immenschuh Thursday. The 34-year-old ex-convict has not yet been given a lie detector test in connection with the crime.

Scheele has said there are "certain discrepancies" in Immenschuh's account of the robbery-murder of Colvert, but has declined to comment on the validity of his story.

Immenschuh is being held at city jail on a federal warrant charging him with burglarizing the Hickman Post Office Dec. 18. He reportedly has admitted the burglary.
